But carrier 'Enterprise' cruises near E. Africa

U.S. military sparse near Uganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise cruised off East Africa on Friday as U.S. military officials kept watch on the situation in Uganda where President Idi Amin has ordered all Americans detained until Monday.

Pentagon officials said no orders had been issued for any military moves. But it was believed that staff officers were considering various possible options in case U.S. citizens in Uganada require rescue.

Israeli commandos pulled off a daring rescue raid at Uganda's Entebbe Airport last July after Amin had detained a hijacked plane that had taken off form Israel.

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell declined to comment when asked if U.S. military planes were being readied for a possible evacuation of the some 240 Americans in the land-locked East African country.

The Enterprise and a half dozen other ships spread through the Indian Ocean-Persian Gulf are the only U.S. military power in the region.

The carrier, with about 95 strike planes and other aircraft aboard, left Mombasa, Kenya, two days ago after a port call. The Enterprise is the closest U.S. warship to East Africa.

However, the carrier does not have enough helicopters aboard to mount an evacuation, officials said. There are no combat troops aboard.

But the carrier's presence in the area might serve to deter Ugandan President Idi Amin from any actions that might endanger the safety of the Americans in his country.

The nearest U.S. Marine unit, a 1,700-man force, is thousands of miles away aboard ships in the Mediterranean off Sardinia. The nearest U.S. Army combat force is an 800-man airborne battalion in northern Italy.

This means that any U.S. rescue operation using American troops would involve a long-range flight, longer than the Israeli raid last summer.

A grandson for Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter became a grandfather for the second time when daughter-in-law Caron Carter gave birth Friday night to a seven-pound boy who the family said would be named James Earl Carter IV.

The father, Chip Carter, 26, was in the delivery room at Bethesda Naval Medical Center in suburban Maryland to watch the birth. He described it as "probably the best experience of my life — including Dad winning the presidency."

President and Mrs. Carter and daughter Amy, 9, also were at the hospital. They had flown by helicopter from the presidential retreat at Camp David, Md., less than an hour before.

The mother is 25 years old.

Carter emerged smiling from the hospital elevator after visiting the new mother and went back to Camp David by helicopter after a brief visit.

"It's a beautiful baby," Mrs. Carter reported with a smile, saying the birth of a second grandchild was "exciting."

Carter group to visit Viet in search of lost Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter will send a high-level commission to Vietnam in mid-March to discuss the possibility of obtaining a full accounting of the more than 1,900 Americans still unaccounted for in that country, the State Department announced Friday.

Spokesman Frederick Z. Brown said the United States also hopes to send a similar mission to Laos, where the fate of some 560 Americans is still unknown.

Brown said the five-member presidential commission will be headed by United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock and that other commission members will be announced later.

He said a parallel objective of the Hanoi mission will be to discuss with Vietnamese authorities matters affecting mutual relations as part of a long-range U.S. goal of establishing normal relations.

Of the 2,550 Americans missing in Southeast Asia, all but about 800 have ben declared dead for legal purposes. A House special committee reported that there is little hope that the 800 persons listed as missing in action are still alive.

About 80 Americans are unaccounted for in Cambodia but Brown said there has been no attempt to contact Cambodian authorities because the prospect for cooperation with them is "not encouraging."

"In seeking an accounting we will make clear that we are concerned about all Americans lost in Southeast Asia, our servicecmen and civilians, those still listed as missing as well as the larger number who have been presumed dead with no accounting being provided," Brown said.

"The fact that a man has been declared dead for legal purposes does not affect our determination to seek information about him and to arrange for the return of his remains if they can be recovered."

State Department officials said the Vietnamese set no preconditions in agreeing to receive the U.S. commission. Agreement was reached following an exchange of letters between Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance and Vietnamese Minister of Foreign Affairs Nguyen Duy Trinh.

Violent schools reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — The primary task for a growing number of students and teachers is self-preservation rather than education, a Senate subcommittee report on school violence said Friday.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., said in releasing the report that an estimated $800 million is spent each year as a result of vandalism in the schools. This is more money than was spent for textbooks in 1972, he said, and is enough to hire 50,000 more teachers.

"Even more shocking, however, is the 70,000 serious physical assaults on teachers and the literally hundreds of thousands of assaults on students perpetrated in our schools annually," he said.

Bayh spoke at a conference sponsored by the National Education Association on violence in the schools. He is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on Juvenile Delinquency, whose report was released Friday.

The report said the subcommittee's study has established that school violence and vandalism have become serious and at times critical problems in American education.

"While certainly not every school in the country is faced with serious crime problems it is clear that for a growing number of students and teachers the primary task is no longer education, but preservation," it said.

The report is a summation of three years of hearings and is based on a nationwide survey of 757 school systems enrolling approximately one half of the public elementary and secondary students in the nation.

A study of crimes in schools by the NEA, an organization of 1.8 million educators, said the number of assaults increased 58 per cent in the years 1970-1974, while sex offenses were up 62 per cent, drug-related crimes rose 81 per cent and robbery was up 117 per cent.

CRASH THROUGH THE WALLS

Ontario Police Officer Wes Binnell sifts through the contents of a car that slammed through an Ontario condominium complex Friday night. At left, through the hole in the back wall of the garage, is the bedroom of a vacant unit where the burning car came to rest.

Smashes through two garages first

Runaway car stops—in bedroom

An out-of-control car, its driver apparently unconscious at the wheel, careened wildly through a south Ontario condominium complex Friday night, crashing through the walls of two garages and into the master bedroom of a vacant unit.

Ontario firemen had to pull the burning wreckage of the car out of the bedroom before they could reach the driver. He was taken to Chino General Hospital, where he was said to be in stable condition with multiple injuries.

He was identified as Stanley Richardson, 30, of Riverside.

Police said witnesses saw the man slumped over the steering wheel as the car was southbound on Mountain Avenue approaching Philadelphia Street at a moderate speed.

The vehicle suddenly veered right, jumped a curb and careened onto the Racquet Club condominium complex.

Police theorized the man's foot lodged on the accelerater as the car picked up speed, narrowly missed the corner of a living room of one unit, skidded across an interior driveway and began plowing through garages at 1134 and 1128 W. Philadelphia St.

The car tore through the back wall of the second garage and finally came to a stop in flames in the master bedroom of the condominium unit.

Fortunately, the unit is not currently occupied.

Before firemen could reach the driver they were forced to through a heavy chain around the bumper of the late model car and pull it back out of the bedroom and into the garage.

Blaze rages through large Moscow hotel

MOSCOW (AP) — Fire raced through one of the world's largest hotels Friday night, forcing guests to leap from windows or climb down knotted bedsheets. Witnesses said a large number of people may have been injured, and some may have died.

A Soviet government spokesman confirmed there were injuries but said he had no figures. U.S. officials here said about 170 Americans were guests at the 5,550-room giant Rossiya Hotel, but they had no reports that any had been hurt.

The fire broke out at about 9 p.m. near the top of the 12-story building packed with foreign businessmen, tourists and Russians, and quickly spread to the lower floors, exploding huge glass windows and filling Red Square, a block away, with heavy smoke.

The Soviet news agency Tass later said it was started by "technical trouble" in the elevator motors of the hotel — a giant glass-sided block 225 yards square that dwarfs several delicately designed Russian churches in its vicinity.

At the height of the blaze, hundreds of guests fled into the winter night and others trapped by the flames screamed for help in various languages.

"I saw two people who jumped from the third floor into the street, but it was too dark to see what happened to them," said Italian buusinessman Franco Solazzo. "I knew they were Italians because before they jumped they were screaming, 'Aiuto! Aiuto!'" — Italian for "Help!"

Some of the injured were carried out of the building on stretchers by firefighters wearing heavy padded uniforms and oxygen masks. Many who fled left behind their belongings, passports and other documents.

Man killed, 1 critical in Baldy crash

One man was killed and another seriously injured Friday afternoon when they were thrown out of their car as it slammed into a hillside on Mt. Baldy road near San Antonio Dam.

The dead man was identified as Jerry Lee Perry, 25, of Baldwin Park. The other man, Warren Johnson, 35, also of Baldwin Park, was in intensive care Friday night at Pomona Valley Community Hospital with a broken back.

Highway Patrolmen said the men's car was southbound at a high rate of speed when it went out of control and hit the mountainside, ejecting them from the vehicle.

Highway Patrol Officer Norm Walker, and three passersby, Fred Gebauer, 18, of Pomona, Paul Janetski, 19, of Long Beach, and Ruben Nava, 20, of Pomona, were credited with performing mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on both men until paramedics could arrive.

Officers said there was a smell of alcohol about both victims.

'Bridge' tycoon dies at 65

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Robert P. McCulloch, president of McCulloch Oil Co., died of an apparent heart attack Friday, a company spokesman said. He was 65.

McCulloch, the man who bought the London Bridge and brought it to Arizona, was found dead in his Bel Air home, said Robert Richardson, director of investor relations for McCulloch.

The McCulloch business empire was built on McCulloch Corp., which produces chain saws and two-cycle engines. But it included varied companies, including the publicly held McCulloch Oil Co.

The Los Angeles-based company ranged from oil to tools to land development.

When London decided to tear down its famous bridge, McCulloch purchased it and had it transported piece by piece to Lake Havasu, Ariz., where it was reconstructed. The entire operation cost $7 million.

2 teens dig up their spending money . . $500,000

WACO, Tex. (AP) — When the two teen-agers left their south Texas home, they had only the clothes on their backs, two ounces of marijuana and two suitcases — stuffed with nearly $500,000 in cash.

Thus equipped for a trip to Chicago, they launched a bizarre, often comical, two-day spending spree. It ended in the Waco jail drunk tank where a prostitute offered to marry them.

The Alice, Tex., high school sophomores, Dean Bridges, 15, and Percy Garcia, 16, say they dug up the cash from a hiding place on Bridges' father's ranch and found that with $500,000 you can:

—Pay a bellboy $3,000 to buy a 1977 Thunderbird for $8,000 in cash and drive it off a Dallas showroom floor.

—Give $100 gifts to winos and $20 tips to waiters.

—Stay at a downtown Dallas hotel and go on shopping sprees to buy cameras, clothes and stereo equipment.

The money, in $20, $50 and $100 bills, now is in a Waco bank while a grand jury investigates its source. The car, with less than 500 miles on it, is gathering dust in the McLennan County garage.

Bridges' father, James Hiroms (Bridges uses his stepfather's name), a welder and racehorse owner, went to jail in Alice on Thursday rather than testify about the origin of the money, which south Texas law enforcement officers believe is related to drug smuggling.

Bridges' attorneys have filed a formal claim for the cash and Garcia's attorneys say they might claim it. The Internal Revenue Service has filed a $300,000 lien.

The slender, shy Bridges said in an interview with The Associated Press that he had known for five months that something valuable — maybe money — was buried on his father's barren, dusty ranch near Alice in a quail pen, guarded by two doberman pinschers and Satan, a vicious German shepherd attack dog.

Bridges said that after a fight with his father Jan. 29, he decided to get whatever was buried there and "get as far away from Alice as we could."

Bridges said he easily pacified the dogs and dug for the money with Garcia, a former high school football player, and another teen-ager, John Rose.

"We were going crazy, throwing up dirt until Percy threw his pick down there and hit something," said Bridges. "We were jumping around and yelling, 'You hit it! You hit it! We struck it rich!'

The money was in $10,000 packets in a red ice chest. Garcia said a piece of notebook paper with "500,000" scrawled on it was the first thing he saw when he opened the chest.

The youths gave Rose $4,000, stuffed their jeans with handfuls of bills and lugged the two suitcases of cash to the bus station.

The teen-agers nearly lost the money twice, they said.

"We were drunk. We just got off the bus and left the $500,000 on it," said Bridges. The suitcases were still there when they reboarded.

After arriving at a Dallas hotel, Bridges and Garcia filled their pockets with about $6,000 each and left for a shopping trip. They shoved the moneyfilled suitcases under their bed and left about $2 in change on a table.

"When we got back, we found out the maid had stole the change," said Bridges. "There was half a million dollars in cash under the bed."

At a Dallas bar, Bridges offered $1,000 to Gilbert Bailey, a wiry-haired Brazilian bellhop who spoke with a thick accent, as a fee to buy them a car. Neither boy had a driver's license.

After the youths counted out $10,000 in $100 bills at the dealerships, the three backed the $8,800 car off the showroom floor.

Bailey, who kept the extra $2,000, was later detained by customs officials in Miami, Fla., where he was waving handfuls of bills.

The teen-agers had set out for Chicago because, "It looked like as far away from Alice as you could go." But they made a wrong turn and ended up in Waco, 100 miles south of Dallas.

"We had smoked some joints and drunk some beer and that was when we got lost," said Bridges. He was driving when a rookie Waco patrolman stopped the youths for running a red light, about 36 hours after they had left Alice.

$3.7 billion financing project

Brown backs Riles' school plans

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. and state school Supt. Wilson Riles joined forces Friday behind Brown's five-year, $3.7-billion school finance plan.

An early-morning news conference indicated a healing of the wounds since Brown's veto of Riles' high school reform bill last year.

That high school proposal is contained almost intact in Brown's school finance bill, along with an expansion of Riles' Early Childhood Education program to the first eight grades.

The high school proposal, known as RISE for Reform of Intermediate and Secondary Education, would establish parent councils at each school to help run programs that are supposed to be based on the different education and job needs of each student. Schools would get $65 per student to run the program.

Brown vetoed it last year, saying it was too expensive, there was no evidence it would work, and "reform" often proved an illusion.

But at Friday's news conference, the Democratic governor referred to the proposal as part of an overall school reform package that will "provide the kind of education that I think will be second to none in this country."

Brown and Riles both expressed confidence that the overall finance bill would satisfy a state Supreme Court order to substantially equalize the money-raising abilities of California's school districts.

The court, in its Serrano decision, ruled that California's school finance system based on local property taxes discriminated against districts with little taxable wealth.

The plan doesn't fully comply with the court's standards of no more than a $100 difference between revenues of districts with the same tax rate, but Brown suggested the standard wasn't binding and should be adjusted for inflation.

Past court decisions, he told reporters, have required the state to do only "what is reasonable and feasible....The court was not aiming at mathematical exactitude."

Brown said his proposal would allow districts with 86 per cent of the state's students to raise amounts within $200 of each other at the same tax rate in the plan's last year, 1981-82. Aides said only 40 to 50 per cent fall in that range now.

In 1981-82, the state would spend $1.2 billion more on schools than its present $3-billion budget.

Spending would be equalized by forcing districts with high taxable wealth to share some of their property tax revenue with low-wealth districts. It is expected to meet resistance from districts like San Francisco, which have great property wealth but many poor residents.

County government in urban areas should be ended: Knox

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

"I am satisfied that in urban areas, county government is archaic and should be abolished," declared Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-11th Dist., at the Los Angeles County League of Women Voters 15th annual convention held at the Pavilion at Griswold's Friday.

Knox, who said he has been attempting unsuccessfully since 1967 to set up a regional government in San Francisco Bay area, explained to the 225 persons attending the league meeting that county governments in California are unable to provide essential services.

"County governments are not set up to handle regional problems because they don't have the sovereignty," said Knox.

Explaining that he has a Machiavellian view of county governments, Knox said that it should be legally possible and politically feasible to change a county if the people desire.

Citing his experience in the Bay area, Knox said that in order to get a regional matter such as transportation, smog control or sewer distribution settled, nine separate county governments and 22 representative regional governments had to be contacted.

"We should seriously look at changing the county government institution," Knox commented. "We must decide that we are not going to get wise decision-making under the present structure."

He called San Diego County a "region as well a county, which can be a true planning operation."

He said that in his attempt to get votes from the legislature, he could get only one Republican vote.

"Regional government is compared to fluoridation and the United Nations," he said.

Knox represents West Contra Costa County in the Assembly, and cited the case of Dow Chemical Co. which was beleaguered by environmentalists.

He said that Dow Chemical had to get 65 separate permits for its operation, that the firm spent $4 million in expenses, and still could get nowhere. "Now without Dow we have nearly 20 per cent unemployment," he stressed.

He said that the county government's role in the health business could be done better on a regional basis, and that welfare should be handled by the state since the state pays the bill.

In broader areas, he said there is a lack of local decision-making and that has to be done by Sacramento and Washington.

As to a regional agency, Knox said he believes that such an agency "would be so important and have such an effect on the lives of people that you would have more citizen participation, but that, of course, would be up to local leadership."

As to what kind of regional government to set up, Knox said that "a ready-made suit doesn't fit all the counties in California."

Knox said also that there is no guarantee that a regional government will work.

Shuttle success

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Space Shuttle's third piggyback flight atop a jumbo jet Friday was so successful that mission controllers may cancel its sixth test flight, ex-astronaut Deke Slayton said.

Slayton, who heads the approach and landing testing for the shuttle orbiter, said the two-hour and 28-minute flight "met all its test objectives" soaring to 26,000 feet at speeds of up to 400 miles an hour clasped atop a Boeing 747.

The fourth and fifth unmanned test flights are scheduled for next Monday and Tuesday. If all goes as well as it did during the first three tests, he added, the sixth flight may be canceled.

A series of manned piggyback tests on the 747 begin in late May.

Milt Kamen dies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Milt Kamen, a frequent guest on television talk shows, died at his home Thursday, family spokesmen said Friday. He was 55.

Kamen was a regular guest on "The Merv Griffin Show," where he was noted for his comic movie reviews. Most recently he reviewed "King Kong." He also appeared on "The Mike Douglas Show" and the "Tonight" show.

He was a guest star on the TV series "Quincy" and last year was in the movie "W.C. Fields and Me."

Earlier in his career he was on "Your Show of Shows" with Sid Caesar and was in several of the Jerry Lewis-Dean Martin movies.

He was born in New York City on March 5, 1921.

Veteran firefighter recalls 26 years of growth

Montclair Fire Dept.—then and now

By MAE TATE
PB Staff Writer

Harold Duncan, a 26½ year veteran of the Montclair Fire Department, is a memory bank of what the department was like as a rural department and what it is now.

Duncan joined the department on Aug. 14, 1950 after a brief stint with the U.S. Forestry Service in Upland. And he's been around ever since, moving from engineer in a three-man department to fire chief in a highly trained service that offers the best in firefighting techniques.

The department in 1950 consisted of three paid persons, 15 volunteers, one pumper, one squad car and one pickup truck.

An alarm was handled with amazing simplicity then, Duncan recalled. The trio would take off in the one squad car, write the address of the fire on a blackboard for the volunteers and meet the volunteers at the site.

Luckily during those days the department handled only about 38 alarms per year.

"We had roughly 5,000 in population in 1950. That year we had only 38 alarms compared to 17,089 in 1976. We have more alarms in a two-week period now than we did all year then. The area was mostly rural and citrus at that time," Duncan said.

On Halloween Day, 1950 the department relocated into the fire station on a site donated by the Monte Vista Water District and the West Ontario Citrus Association. The station, located next door to the water district office, is now the Firehouse Community Center.

The geographic makeup of the region surrounding the station belongs to an era now past. From Benson to Ramona avenues, Holt Boulevard was mainly commercial. Central Avenue, now the hub of business activities, was mainly orange groves.

The city incorporated in 1956, but the fire department continued to operate as a county fire district up to 1987 when the city took over operation. It grew to its present size of 45 paid personnel, two stations, three engine companies, a rescue unit, Office of Emergency Services engine company and communications van, a snorkel, staff cars and mechanic pickups in a major expansion program that culminated in 1972.

The expansion program improvements were aimed primarily at improving the quality of service and reducing the fire insurance rates within the city. The $1.2 million program, which also included upgrading the city's water system, moved the department into a fire insurance class of three, a highly attractive class for commercial and industrial development, and a benefit on a smaller scale for residential.

"There's been a lot of innovation in methods of firefighting. The general public is more demanding today than when we first started," Duncan commented.

The fire chief said the type of firefighting had changed because of the drastic change in the development of the area, going from agricultural and residential to commercial and industrial.

Weed abatement and furnace information services now help curtail the seasonal fires caused by weeds and faulty furnaces. The department, in addition to firefighting, now concentrates on prevention.

During Fire Prevention Week and in special programs throughout the year firemen go into the elementary schools and talk with youngsters about fire hazards and protections.

Montclair also conducts a company inspection program where on-duty fire crews inspect commercial buildings and do a pre-plan drawing of the building to assist in the case of an actual fire.

In the day-to-day operation, firemen take part in some portion of training per shift either at the stations or atop the training tower at the city yards. The mutual aid agreement with surrounding cities has been of benefit in exchanging assistance and information as far east as Arrowhead and west to San Dimas and La Verne.

Duncan is a native of the West End, growing up in Upland and graduating from Chaffey High School and College. His wife, Charlotte, grew up in Pomona and they raised their two daughters, Mrs. Kathryn Moody and Mrs. Sandra Parker, in Montclair. Mrs. Moody and her husband, Jim, are also residents of Montclair with their two sons, Jason and Travis.

Police are getting help from college students

By VONNE ROBERTSON
PB Staff Writer

A cooperative program between Claremont Men's College and El Monte Police Department which may develop into a national prototype for medium-sized cities is being explained this week in Washington, D.C., and on television.

Chief Maurice Matthews of the El Monte department proposed a Planning and Research Unit to assess department operations, survey crime problems and develop new programs to control the crimes.

The innovative plan was based upon cooperation with a college's sociology department in order to use its research capabilities. The link was made with CMC students and faculty through the Rose Institute of State and Local Government.

A televised inside look at the program will be featured on KNBC-4 on Sunday at 9 a.m. for the "On Campus" weekly series produced for the Independent Colleges of Southern California.

The 30-minute show follows three CMC students and two professors as they conduct various research and field activities with El Monte officers.

Some of the results already attained in the ongoing project are being outlined by John Snortum, CMC professor of psychology, and Jack Pearce, a student, during the First National Conference on Criminal Justice Evaluation this week in Washington, D.C.

"It's easy in the classroom to talk about individual rights and ideals," said Snortum, "but your attitudes change as the result of specific experiences."

The professor wasn't the only one to change his attitudes as the result of the program in which students spent hundreds of hours riding with officers, working with gangs and helping with research and studies on crime patterns.

Pearce, a psychology major, contributed 15 hours a week for 28 weeks, or 420 hours, participating in crisis intervention training.

"I had previously had only negative contacts with the police," Pearce said, "and I wasn't sure what they'd think of my long hair and beard.

"But I became really acquainted during working hours and off duty and got to know the person behind the uniform."

Pearce's first assignment was riding along with a female officer not much older than himself.

One of the major developments from the cooperative program involves a radically new computerized burglary projection model developed by John Beyers, a senior majoring in economics and psychology.

Beyers spent 20 hours a week for 24 weeks, or about 480 hours, and concentrated his research in patrol activities associated with felony arrests and deployment strategies.

Using the sophisticated computer system of the Claremont Colleges for analysis, Beyers is attempting to predict burglaries within 59 sections of El Monte at a given time of day

When completed in 10 months, this system could well serve as a prototype for other communities, Snortum said.

"Under the supervision of the professors, a number of students have completed other research for projects, independent studies and internships," Snortum added.

"The El Monte Police Department has taken the unprecedented step of granting Claremont students complete access to all data on the operation of the force, subject to legal limitations of confidentiality of individual records."

Lt. Phillip Moore of the El Monte force meets frequently with the students and professors as computer information begins to show trends in burglaries in the city.

"We are still trying to refine the statistics," said the officer. "Since manpower used for crime prevention can fluctuate, the statistics may not be as accurate as we'd like. So we'll try to adapt our recording."

Snortum said "This program would not be possible in just any police department. It requires a progressive, innovative chief and staff.

"All of us at the college have been impressed by their openness and ability to combine traditional police practices with people-oriented programs tailored to El Monte's needs.

"Our joint efforts have triggered a chain reaction of unanticipated research dividends which far exceed the objectives of the original grant."

Dam to have less impact on Chino

By JON MORRIS
PB Staff Writer

A major Santa Ana River flood control project may not affect as many Chino area homes and businesses as feared earlier.

The head of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has reversed a previous stand by corps officials against construction of the Mentone Dam near Redlands — and that action means Mentone likely will be built.

Construction of Mentone would lessen the impact on homes and businesses in the Chino area, since Prado would not have to be raised as much.

The plan earlier favored by the corps would have raised Prado 45 feet and affected 463 homes, 43 dairies and more than 3,000 acres, according to San Bernardino County officials who had been opposing the project. Property is affected because water backs up behind a dam during heavy rains.

With construction of Mentone, few homes and property near Chino would be affected. Prado would still be raised 30 feet, but the lesser the raising, the fewer homes would be displaced.

Rep. George Brown Jr., D-36th Dist., confirmed today that Lt. Gen. John Morse, commander of the Corps of Engineers, had reversed the previous recommendation against Mentone by corps officials.

The corps earlier had opposed Mentone because of the cost. The Mentone project is estimated at $741 million, while the Prado-only proposal would run about $552 million.

The river project is designed to control flood waters flowing from the mountains to the Pacific Ocean.

County officials, including Supervisor Robert Townsend of Chino, had been fighting for the Mentone plan. Morse's reversal was seen by Brown as virtual assurance that the combined Mentone-Prado project will be submitted to Congress for approval and funding in the next fiscal year.

Congress has already approved $700,000 for preliminary design of the project — but only if it includes Mentone.

HOSPITAL EXPANSION

Montclair's Doctors Hospital 'giving birth'

The Doctors Hospital at Montclair is constructing a 2,000-square-foot addition to its obstetrical department to meet the demand for additional facilities.

When the hospital opened in August 1972, four babies per month were being delivered at the hospital. Currently, about 70 babies are delivered each month, according to Dr. John E. Olson Jr., chief of staff.

The expansion includes four nursery beds, three labor beds, a second delivery room, a sterilization unit and a nurses' station and a doctors' lounge.

The plans for the expansion have been reviewed by state agencies and have received exemption from the Certificate of Need review by the state Department of Health, according to Skip Courtney, assistant administrator.

The expansion should be completed in about five months.

The 99-bed hospital is operated by National Medical Enterprises, Inc.

C-CAP to hold public meeting

Pomona Base of the California Community Alert Patrol (C-CAP), recipient of two awards, will hold a public meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Pomona Education Center auditorium, 800 S. Garey Ave.

Base publicity chairman Andy Banks said that new memberships will be accepted Wednesday in both junior and adult ranks, and some new assignments will be made.

The awards received recently by the base include a Certificate of Appreciation from the California Department of Fish and Game "in appreciation of valuable services provided volunteer instructors and the Department of Fish and Game for promoting safe hunting practices, principles of conservation and sportsmanship."

Another, a proclamation from Pomona City Council, commends C-CAP "for its volunteer efforts in helping to combat crime and in so doing make our city a safer place in which to live and work."

Base Cmdr. Jack Botkin described C-CAP as an organization of volunteers dedicated to assisting law enforcement authorities in fight against crime, and in generating community involvement. Members also work within parameters established by Police Chief Richard Slaght.

Mayor Ray Lepire said the commendation was given by City Council for C-CAP's assistance during fires, searches for lost children, in directing traffic and in installing barricades.

Lepire praised Botkin and the 470 C-CAP members for the hundreds of hours they have donated patroling the city.

Lepire urged others to join C-CAP saying that "there is still a reluctance on the part of many citizens to involve themselves in actions to insure the protection, rights and well-being their fellow citizens."

Sleeping pill drug in Prinze body

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A coroner's report revealed the presence of a sleeping pill drug in the body of comedian Freddie Prinze when he died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound, officials said.

The drug methaqualone, a sleeping potion, was present in his stomach and his blood at the time the 22-year-old Prinze shot himself, the final coroner's report said.

Board candidate expresses views

William H. Thompson of Fontana is one of nine candidates for the Chaffey Community College board of trustees.

"Complacency, lack of communication with the communities, students, certificated and classified staff and a general lack of concern for administrative costs are some of the key issues in the campaign for two seats," said Thompson.

Retired after nearly 25 years in sales and service for the wholesale milk and industrial uniform businesses, Thompson is now a full-time student at Chaffey College.

He blames many of the board problems on the fact that all board members currently reside on the same city.

"Consequently, the needs of the balance of the district are almost ignored," adds the candidate.

He recommends an elected representative from each district and the limiting of the number of consecutive terms to just two.

Among other key issues are collective bargaining, academic freedom and the evaluation of staff and their teaching methods.

Thompson and his wife, Doris, reside at 8957 Encina Ave., Fontana. They have two children, both now in college.

Political arena...

Formation of a new liberal third party will be called for by WILLIAM WINGFIELD of Covina in an address at noon on March 2, at the open forum at Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut.

Wingfield's talk will be sponsored by the Campus Liberal Club.

He said the purpose of his proposed third party would be the same as that of the New York State Liberal Party, "to make Republicans liberal and Democrats honest."

Wingfield was Covina Town Chairman for the 1976 McCarthy presidential campaign. He was Covina Democrat of the Year in 1974, and is a former member of the Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee.

Wingfield is a former radio commentator and newsman.

Nancy J. McCracken, chairman of the POMONA REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS, has been appointed by former Republican State Sen. William Coombs of Rialto two a two-year term on the California State Republican Central Committee.

Her appointment was announced by Tom Noonan, chairman of the 65th Assembly District Republican Central Committee.

Mrs. McCracken attended the recent GOP state convention in Sacramento. She is first vice president of the Pomona Valley Republican Womens' Club, Federated and is an alternate delegate to the Los Angeles County Republican Central Committee.

SEN. ALAN CRANSTON, D-Calif., majority whip of the Senate, has been elected chairman of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee which monitors $20 billion in government programs to serve the nation's 29 million veterans.

ASSEMBLYMAN BILL MCVITTIE, D-65th Dist., Upland, has introduced a bill giving federal law enforcement officers the status of California peace officers in making arrests and carrying firearms.

The bill would allow federal officers to make arrests for California offenses when a local peace officer was not readily available.

ASSEMBLYMAN DAVE STIRLING, R-64th Dist., Hacienda Heights, has introduced a bill that requires the legislature to determine whether parole should be granted or revoked for prisoners given life sentences.

"With 106 death-row inmates now free of the death penalty because of the 1972 court decision, the people of California are facing a very real threat," Stirling said.

SEN. PETER H. BEHR, R-San Rafael has introduced a Senate Joint Resolution urging the federal government to release money for child abuse prevention programs.

The federal office of Child Abuse Prevention, in 1974, allocated $269,000 to California each year for three years. Behr said that if California does not receive its allocation by July 1, it will lose eligibility.

Child abuse prevention projects, already designed, encourage more reporting of incidents of child abuse and provide further criminal justice and supportive services, Behr said.

REP. JIM LLOYD, D-35th Dist., West Covina, spent several days recently in Seattle, Wash., test-flying defense weapons produced by Boeing Co.

He flew the Boeing 747, a commercial transport competing for the Air Force Advanced Tanker Cargo Aircraft contract, and the Advanced Warning and Control System, referred to as the military's "big radar bird."

Lloyd stopped in Long Beach long enough to take a turn at the controls of McDonnel Douglas' DC 10, a commercial jet in competition for the Air Force ATCA contract.

Almanac

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, Feb. 26. There are 308 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1531, an earthquake in Portugal killed tens of thousands of people and flattened much of Lisbon and other cities.

On this date:

In 1918, during World War I, German planes bombed the Italian city of Venice.

In 1919, the U.S. Congress established Grand Canyon National Park in Arizona.

In 1971, there was heavy fighting between North Vietnamese and South Vietnamese forces inside Laos.

In 1974, Ethiopian army units seized the second largest city in that country, Asmara.

Ten years ago: Five U.S. warships bombed supply lines and a munitions depot on the coast of North Vietnam.

Five years ago: More than three dozen people were killed in the mining town of Logan, W. Va., when a huge coal slag heap serving as a dam burst under the pressure of torrential rains.

One year ago: The leaders of Portugal's armed forces and the five main political parties signed an agreement to end military rule and establish a parliamentary democracy.

Today's birthdays: Comedian Jackie Gleason is 61 years old. Former movie star Betty Hutton is 56.

Thought for today: Only the really plain people know about love. The very fashionable ones try so hard to create an impression they soon exhaust their talents — Katharine Hepburn.

Lexington's crime nil, as usual

LEINGTON, Va. (AP) — When Lexington Police Chief J. A. Kirby submitted his 1976 report to City Council it contained the customary good news:

Kirby said 116 crimes were reported last year, up from 96 in 1975, including 55 larcenies, 40 minor assaults and 15 buglaries.

ERIC TITUS

Purim at Beth Israel

The Religious School and Hebrew Department of Temple Beth Israel will help celebrate Purim with a Family Night Sabbath Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Purim is a holiday based upon the biblical short story, the Book of Esther.

Purim is a holiday with almost no home observance. Its basic celebration is the noisy albeit traditional reading of the story of Esther in the synagogue in a fashion which transforms the characters of the tale into folklore.

The family night scroll reading by Rabbi Mandel, spiritual leader, aided by Cantor Herbert Isaacson and four college instructors in the faculty of the school, Miss Emily Georges, Miss Ilisa Wine, Miss Abby Greenspan and Miss Judy Shanks, will include folk singing, folk dancing and a masquerade parade where the children of the Religious School will come dressed in costume. Prizes will be awarded for the most beautiful, most original, and the funniest costumes.

Mrs. Micky Ross, president of the congregation has invited children of the community to join in the celebration. Members of the Religious School Staff will tell about the plans for a pre-school program for Jewish young children to be inaugurated next fall.

Series of messages scheduled

The First Baptist Church of Montclair will have a series of prophetic messages with five speakers beginning Sunday.

The programs will continue through Wednesday. The 11 a.m. service Sunday will have Dr. Richard Strauss of Escondido, who will speak on the subject, "Why Study Prophecy?" At 7 p.m. Sunday, Dr. G.L. Johnson of the Peoples Church in Fresno will speak on the topic, "The Real Problem Behind the Middle Eastern Crisis."

Other services and speakers include: Monday, 7 p.m. Dr. Herbert Anderson, Corvallis, Ore., "Shadows of the Anti-Christ"; Tuesday, 7 p.m. Dr. John L. Mitchell, Bethany Bible Church of Phoenix, Ariz., "The Millennium Lifestyle — What it Will be Like"; and Wednesday, 7 p.m., Dr. Richard Mc Neely, Biola College in La Mirada, "The Tribulation Controversy."

Interview of minister on radio

The Rev. Clifford B. Holand of Claremont will be interviewed on Radio Station K-KAR at 9:45 a.m. Sunday by G. M. Lenox.

Mr. Holand recently published a historical novel, "Towhead, son of a Northman," whose setting is the Mesabi Iron Range of Northern Minnesota in the early 1900s.

The book is now in its third printing.

First Baptist to dedicate lots

The First Baptist Church in La Verne will dedicate Sunday two recently acquired lots.

The property is between property already owned by the church.

The dedication service will begin at the 11 a.m. worship service. The Rev. Blake Westmoreland, pastor, will deliver a message on the value of this acquisition to the expanding church program.

At the conclusion of the service inside of the sanctuary, the congregation will be invited to stand on the land being dedicated. A ceremony will include delivery of the deed papers by the chairman of the long range planning committee, DeWayne Adams, to Avery Dacus, the chairman of the board of deacons. This will be followed by a dinner at the church.

Former pastors, members, and friends are invited to participate.

Purchase of this property is the first step in development of a more adequate church plant.

The long range planning committee will bring to the congregation plans and programs for the best use of the property. The church has been engaged in a stewardship program during February, looking toward the purchase of this property without debt.

Blue collars

Many leading U.S. companies are seriously thinking of paying their blue-collar workers by salary rather than on an hourly basis, The Conference Board finds. The reason: to give blue-collar workers the kind of job security long enjoyed by salaried employes. Some companies also are considering new techniques to guarantee jobs for their salaried workers. Layoffs for this group are less frequent than for blue-collar workers, but they are usually more severe. While most blue-collar workers laid off during the recent recession got their jobs back when business picked up, a lot of white-collar workers weren't so lucky.

VISITOR — Jimmy Weldon, an early television humorist, will appear with his duck, Webster Webfoot, Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Pilgrim Congregational Church at the second in a series of Lenten dinner programs. Dinner will be served at 6:15 p.m. Reservations are needed. Weldon will perform in the Pilgrim Hall.

For Sunday mornings during Lent, the Adult Studies Committee will present a series entitled "Alive in Mission." Sessions will be held in the Round Building, 10:10 to 11:00 a.m. The first session will be conducted Sunday by Dr. Leslie Sayre, a missionary, author and former editor of Friendship Press, the official publishing arm of the National Council of Churches. His subject will be "Communications in Mission."

Pomonan's book to be published

Barbara Michael of Pomona has been informed by Dorrance & Co. of Ardmore, Pa., that her book, "God Is Knocking" has been accepted for publication.

The book is her first literary work. She has lived in the valley for the past 12 years and operates a secretarial service.

Joint appeal for aid

America's three major faiths will continue their cooperative effort of the past 25 years with a joint appeal for their separate programs of worldwide relief and rehabilitation. Dates of the annual Religious Overseas Aid Appeal are Feb. 20 through April 30.

During this time, millions of Americans will respond to one of three fund-raising efforts for the alleviation of global suffering: the Catholic Relief Service Appeal, the Protestant, "One Great Hour of Sharing," and the United Jewish Appeal.

Their contributions will aid millions on nearly every continent. Through the overseas relief programs of the three faiths, victims of earthquakes, hurricanes, floods and droughts, of political strife and wars, and of hunger and poverty, will receive emergency aid with medicines, food, clothing and shelter.

Developmental programs, including agricultural and various other self-help projects, will offer persons a way out of marginal living. Growing numbers of refugees will be aided in resettlement.

These and other ministries of mercy carried on worldwide by the three faiths account for a major portion of all American voluntary overseas relief efforts.

Giants pull out thriller

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Ganesha High, which appeared to have wrapped up its CIF 3A playoff opener early in the fourth quarter, needed a pass deflection and slam dunk by James Verdon in the final seconds to pull out a 82-78 win over Brea-Olinda at Mt. San Antonio College Friday night.

The Giants had a 74-63 lead when center George Hawthorne fouled out with 4:01 remaining in the ballgame. But the 6-foot-10 junior center had played one of the best games of his career, and Ganesha clearly missed him.

Brea whittled away at the Giants' lead until Eric Gramberg's basket put the Wildcats just one point behind, 79-78, with 17 seconds left.

Ganesha's Vince Hall was fouled and made his first free throw for an 80-78 advantage, but he missed his second shot and Brea's Bill Davis rebounded with 15 seconds on the clock, plenty of time for a tying basket.

However, Verdon got a hand on Davis' pass at midcourt and knocked the ball to teammate Steve Polee, who passed back to Verdon for a slam dunk with one second to go as Ganesha fans streamed onto the court.

In the second round, Ganesha will face Riverside Poly, 76-75 winner over Lowell Friday. Poly will be the host at a site to be determined.

Polee and Hawthorne, both playing as well as they have all year, finished with 21 and 20 points, respectively. Hawthorne, intimidating all night, blocked five shots and grabbed 12 rebounds. Verdon scored 18 points and grabbed 14 rebounds and Hall caught 13 boards.

But another key Giant was sophomore Floyd Williams, who came off the bench for 12 points, 10 rebounds and four blocked shots.

Brea's Phil Henderson led the game's scorers with 27 points and teammate Kevin Bowland was next with 22.

Ganesha entered the second half down by one point, 38-37, and quickly fell behind, 46-39. But the Giants, led by Hawthorne and Polee, scored 32 of the next 44 points for a commanding 71-58 lead with 5:01 left in the game.

From that point on, the game was played largely at the foul line, where neither team was very successful. Ganesha made five of 13 free throws in the final quarter and Brea made 10 of 21.

"I can't believe they (the Wildcats) weren't charged with any deliberate (two-shot) fouls," complained Giant coach Gary Fulkerson. "Their coach (Gene Lloyd) came over with a few minutes left and said, 'Don't lose your composure, but we're going to foul you.'"

Ganesha is now 24-4 on the year; Brea finished 17-10.

Damien wins on foul line

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

FULLERTON — Clutch free throw shooting carried Damien High into the second round of the CIF 3A basketball playoffs here Friday night.

The Spartans sank 18 of 20 from the foul line to nip host Sunny Hills, 64-61, before a standing-room only crowd at the Lancers' gymnasium.

Reserve forward Scott Bell calmly sank two charity tosses with four seconds on the clock to ice the hard-earned victory for the Spartans, who will host Ramona Tuesday night at a site to be determined.

Bell, who scored all 11 of his points in the second half, was needed when starter Simon Bleeker fouled out with 5:50 left in the game.

Damien got more bad news with 1:05 left when its star forward, Bill Duffy, was also sent to the bench with his fifth personal foul and the Spartans holding a 58-55 lead.

But Duffy told coach Bill Roberts not to worry.

"When he went to the bench, Bill told me we would still win," Roberts said. "We're a poised team and bring the ball down the court well."

Duffy had another of his spectacular performances despite ailing with bronchitis and tonsillitis. He ended up scoring 21 points in making seven of 10 field goals and seven of eight free throws. He also grabbed seven rebounds and had six assists.

Sunny Hills (17-8) opened the first quarter with a half-court press but Damien countered by passing to Bleeker under the basket for six baskets.

"They expected me to shoot so we surprised them by passing to Simon," Duffy explained.

Thanks to the first quarter 16-15 lead, Damien enjoyed the lead throughout the game expect when the Lancers tied it at 34-34 late in the third quarter.

Damien (14-10) spurted ahead by nine points (51-42) with 5:12 left in the game only to have Sunny Hills bounce back with eight straight points.

But Duffy, Dan Marconi and Bell sank 11 free throws the rest of the way to stay ahead.

Besides Duffy's 21 points, Damien got 14 from Bleeker plus 12 from Marconi.

Damien connected on 50 per cent (22 of 44) from the field and enjoyed a 30-20 edge on the boards.

Braves cruise

By TIM CLARK
PB Correspondent

It was 24-6 after one quarter, 38-17 at the half, and the field goal shooting percentages by then were 72.0 to 23.5. 'Nuff said.

Hacienda League champion Alta Loma posted the Pomona valley's easiest victory in the opening round of the CIF playoffs, breezing by Mayfair (the third place entry from the Suburban League) Friday night at the wild Brave gym, 73-53.

That 72 percent field goal figure is no mistake either. Alta Loma made good on 18 of 25 shots in the first half, as the Brave front line of Rich Davis, Jeff Anderson and Kevin Comstock just simply couldn't miss. In contrast, the visiting Monsoons went a paltry 8-for-34, due largely to Davis' very aggressive play. The 6-10 All-Valley star had five blocked shots in the first quarter alone!

Alta Loma now advances to the second round of the playoffs for the third consecutive year, as the Braves will face El Monte, a 73-61 winner over Cathedral. The game will be played on Tuesday, with the site being determined today via a coin-flip.

According to both McCall and Davis, it was the most impressive game of senior captain's career. Not too bad of an assertion.

Davis slammed home (well, just five dunks) a game-high 23 points (11-of-15), pulled in nine rebounds, and wound up with nine "snuffs."

"This was my best game ever," grinned Rich. "It's kind of funny too, because last week I was just horrible (in an overtime loss to Ontario) . . . I'd have to credit the fans. It makes so much of a difference when there's some people in the place."

Forwards Comstock and Anderson had super nights also, scoring 16 and 20 points respectively. Kevin went 8-for-12 with nine boards, while Jeff went 9-for-13, and grabbed a game-high 10 rebounds.

In all, the Braves finished at a cool 58.1 per cent (32-55), out-rebounded Mayfair 41-29, committed only NINE personal fouls and 18 turnovers, and racked up a season-high 26 assists (13 by guard John Conger).

Dodger hurlers come to terms

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dodger pitchers Burt Hooton and Al Downing have signed contracts, a team spokesman said Friday, leaving just three players on the Los Angeles roster unsigned.

The three who haven't come to terms are pitcher Tommy John and outfielders John Hale and Glenn Burke.

Hooton, 27, was 11-15 with a 3.25 earned run average last year. His best year as a Dodger was in 1975, when he had an 18-7 record.

Downing, the 36-year-old reliever, was 1-2 with a 3.83 ERA in 1976. The 16-year major league veteran had his best season with the Dodgers in 1971, when he won 20 games as a starter.

Most of the Dodgers will fly to Vero Beach, Fla., Monday, where the team will open spring drills the following day.

Garey ousted

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

LA HABRA — Garey High was eliminated from the CIF 3-A playoffs by an old foe.

La Habra High the team that ousted Garey in the second round a year ago, downed the visiting Vikings 72-67 in first round action Friday night.

The Highlanders will play Rubidoux in the second round Tuesday. Rubidoux beat Los Altos 60-55 and will host the game.

La Habra earned itself the number one spot in the final 3-A poll by winning the Orange League with a 12-2 record. The "Clan" is 22-3 overall.

Unranked Garey finished in third place in the San Antonio League with a 9-5 record. Garey finishes the year overall at 15-10.

The Vikings won the 3-A championship during the 1974-75 season.

Garey was right with the Highlanders for the first half and grabbed a 16-12 lead after the first quarter of play.

The Vikings still led at 37-33 going into the locker room behind James Lofton's eight points.

The Clan outscored Garey 14-2 to open the third period en route to scoring 28 points in the stanza and lead at the outset 61-53.

Garey closed the gap to two (65-63) with 3:40 left to play. The Vikings, however could not overcome the deficit.

La Habra center Ted Whittington and forward Chuck Fitzgerald shared scoring honors with 27 points each, mostly in the third quarter. Whittington scored 15 in the third and Fitzgerald 11.

Lofton led Viking scorers with 19, followed by Herbi Banks with 14, and reserve Devi Parks with 12. Parks also came off the bench to lead board-play with seven rebounds.

Poly cagers now tied for first

BAKERSFIELD — Cal Poly Pomona's basketball team received a new lease on life last week, when it learned of the ineligibility of Cal State Los Angeles' Will Roberts.

The Broncos were floundering in last place in the California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA) with a 2-5 conference record.

Now, Cal Poly has taken a complete about face and is in a first place tie with Cal Poly San Luis Obispo and Cal State Northridge. All have records of 6-3 in CCAA.

The Broncos won a squeaker over the Cal State Bakersfield Roadrunners up north on Friday night, 72-71, while CSUN's Matadors ran past Cal Poly SLO, 75-65.

Cal Poly Pomona will face SLO tonight at San Luis Obispo at 8 p.m. in what should be a real thriller. Meanwhile, CSUN will take on the Roadrunners in Bakersfield.

Broderick Hunter, a former Ganesha High star, led the Broncos in scoring with 16 points, as he went six for eight from the field, and a perfect four-for-four from the free throw line.

Center Don Johnson had another fine game with 14 points and 11 rebounds. Charles Johnson added 12 points and teammate Paten Calloway scored 10 points.

After an extremely close first half, Poly finally was able to open a gap on the 'Runners at 54-43 with about 14 minutes left in the game.

Bakersfield then chipped away at the Broncos' lead and closed to within three points at 58-55.

With just three minutes left, Poly held a two-point, 71-69, CBS's Frank Johnson tied the score on a layup but was called for charging, after the points had been scored.

Poly's Tom Ispas cooly sank the first free throw of a one-plus-one situation to give the Broncos the victory.

The Poly women also won on the road Friday night, beating UC Santa Barbara 64-56. Musiette McKinney led the way with 22 points.

The Poly women are now 20-5 on the year and 9-0 in conference. They will also be at SLO tonight.

Lakers edge Philly, 'Dr. J'

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

INGLEWOOD — Again the Lakers proved that a TEAM can defeat a group of individuals, no matter how talented the individuals.

Kareem Abdul Jabbar was the star. But Don Chaney was the hero Friday night as Lakers' teamwork resulted in a rip-roaring, 104-102 Laker victory over the super talented Philadelphia 76ers before a sellout crowd of 17,505 at the Forum.

George McGinnis' 16-footer tied the score for the fourth time in the last three minutes of the game. It gave McGinnis his 29th and 30th points and the 76ers a 102-102 tie with 22 seconds left.

The Lakers called time out and set up a play. When play resumed, Lucius Allen ran the clock down and passed to Jabbar.

With seven seconds showing, Jabbar, heavily guarded, tried a high, fall away jumper. It missed, but Chaney, high in the air by the basket, tipped it in with three seconds showing to win the game.

"I think that in spells we played just about as well as we are capable of playing," said a happy coach Jerry West.

Asked if Friday's win over Philadelphia made up for Wednesday's frustrating loss to Detroit, West replied quickly, "We won that game. I don't care what the score was. We outplayed them."

Jabbar played all but five minutes and outdid everybody including McGinnis and Julius Erving.

The giant center scored 39 points, grabbed 17 rebounds, had five assists and four blocked shots.

"This was a big one," he said. "It helps make up for the other one (Wednesday). Everybody was on me trying to stop me from making that last shot. I just put the ball up high hoping it would go in. It didn't. But Don was up there and tipped it in."

The bucket accounted for Chaney's fifth and sixth points. Cazzie Russel added 28 points, Don Ford 12 and Allen 10.

Erving scored 22, only two in the third quarter, on eight of 19 shots and six of eight free throws. Lloyd Free scored 17 and Doug Collins added 12 off the bench.

It gives the Lakers a 37-22 record, a 26-3 mark at home and a game and a half lead over Portland, which lost to the Lakers' Sunday opponent, Houston.

Zamora agrees to title fight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Alfonso Zamora has agreed to defend his World Boxing Association bantamweight title against Sean O'Grady April 30 at the Forum, a Forum spokesman said.

Zamora, the 23-year-old Mexico City resident, will bring a perfect 28-0 mark — all by knockout — into the fight and the bout will mark his sixth tite defense.

O'Grady, an 18-year-old from Oklahoma City, is currently ranked the WBA's No. 2 bantamweight, and has a 42-1 record with 38 knockouts.

O'Grady is scheduled to meet Earl Large of Clovis, N.M., in Oklahoma City March 1, and should he lose that bout, will forfeit his chance to fight Zamora for the title.

Mark Roth top bowler

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Mark Roth of New York moved ahead of idle Earl Anthony of Tacoma, Wash., for the lead in the Professional Bowlers Association money rankings this week.

The PBA said Wednesday that Roth's tie for 30th in last week's Overland Park, Kan., tournament boosted him to $30,430 for the season, compared with Anthony's No. 2 total of $30,150.

Completing the top five were Marshall Holman of Medford, Ore., with $24,075; Steve Neff of Sarasota, Fla., at $21,745, and Don Johnson of Las Vegas with $17,720.

Midwesterners virtually swept the second five places, starting with Tommy Hudson of Akron, in sixth $17,175.

Hudson was trailed by Dick Weber of St. Louis, whose $8,025 first-place finish in Kansas boosted his earnings to $17,508. Steve Jones of Independence, Mo., was eighth with $12,538, followed by Cliff McNealy, San Lorenzo, Calif., at $12,450, and Norm Meyers, St. Louis, at $11,798.

NFL agreement reached

WASHINGTON (AP) — After three years of on-again, offagain bargaining, peace finally came to the National Football League Friday when the players association and team owners approved a five-year basic agreement which modified both the college draft and the controversial Rozelle Rule.

In addition, some 43 players who played out their options last season and were to become free agents May 1 instead will be free to negotiate with other clubs as soon as the agreement is signed.

Sargent Karch, executive director of the NFL Management Council (NFLMC), said he expected formal signing of the contract to take place Monday, subject to ratification by the union membership.

The college draft, which is now guaranteed at least through 1986, will be held on or about May 1 each year, beginning this spring, but will be reduced from 17 rounds to 12.

In addition, the expiration date of all player contracts is changed from May 1 to Feb. 1. Free agents must reach agreement with another club by April 15, upon which their old club then has the right to keep the player by matching his new offer.

If a free agent signs with a new club, his old club will be compensated by predetermined choices in that year's college draft ranging from a thirdround choice to two consecutive first-round choices depending on the free agent's salary

However, any team signing a free agent must either own the rights to whatever draft choices it will be required to surrender or must trade for them, and those choices may not be lower than its own standing in the order of selection in the draft.

Maravich spree gives Jazz win

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Pistol Pete Maravich scored 68 points—third highest in National Basketball history—as his New Orleans Jazz team beat the New York Knicks 124-107 Friday night.

Maravich's performance was surpassed only by 100 points center Wilt Chamberlain scored for Philadelphia in a game in 1962, and 71 by forward Elgin Baylor, now head coach of the Jazz, for Los Angeles in 1962.

Maravich's total was the highest ever for an NBA guard. The old record was 63, set by Jerry West of Los Angeles in 1962.

Walnut triumphs

Walnut High advanced in CIF basketball playoff action Friday night, but three other valley teams bit the dust.

The Mustangs opened in the 2A playoffs by nipping host Leuzinger 73-70. However, Ontario High dropped its 2A opener to host Paramount by a 62-54 score, while in 1A action Notre Dame of Riverside edged Ontario Christian 62-60 in two overtimes. In a Small Schools Division contest, Huntington Valley Christian blasted visiting American Christian, 83-36.

Walnut rallied from a 43-31 halftime deficit to beat Leuzinger. An effective press made the difference in the final 16 minutes.

Jeff Davis led the way for the Mustangs with 24 points, and added eight rebounds. Andre Edwards had 12 points and eight boards for Walnut, while Pat Flaherty added 10 points and a game-high six assists.

Mike Andrews led Leuzinger with 25 points.

Ontario was outscored 21-12 in the final quarter and fell victim to Paramount. Ralph Gonzalez led Paramount with 18 points.

Leo Olivas topped the Jaguars with 13 points, Mickey Donaldson adding 11.

Bill Dracklin hit two free throws for Notre Dame with only one second remaining in the second overtime as OCHS fell at Riverside. Dracklin had drawn an offensive fouls foul on the Knights to set up his winning charity tosses.

Hank Bouwman led OCHS with 22 points and 14 rebounds. The Knights' chances were hurt when both Jim Berkompas and Pete Verhoeven fouled out in the overtime periods.

Devils' Lambert shines

Tim Lambert threw a one-hitter as Pomona High downed Ontario, 3-1, Friday to highlight first-round action of the Chaffey Baseball Tournament.

Brian Donahue drove in the winning run for Pomona in the first inning while Kevin Johnson tripled in one score and tallied himself in the fifth frame to close out the Devils' scoring.

Damien booters triumph

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

Damien High opened play in the CIF 4A soccer playoffs Friday afternoon with an impressive 3-1 win over valley neighbor Webb School in a game played at Damien High.

Damien, the San Antonio League champs, dominated the game, but were given a scare early in the first half by the smaller and less experienced Gaul kickers.

Webb, on its only shot on goal in the first half, took the early advantage. A pass from Gabe Sanchez was banged into the net by teammate Dave Sanger from 25 yards out, off a deflection by a Damien defenseman.

Despite constant Spartan pressure, that 1-0 lead held up until late in the opening half.

Damien got the break it needed to tie the contest as Gaul goalie Chuck Lewis, who was spectacular in the nets all afternoon, was called for too many steps in the penalty box area on a punt attempt.

That gave the host Spartans a chance to tie it, and Mike Hunter did the honors, booming an indirect free kick past the wall of Webb defenders into the lower left corner of the net.

Damien kept the constant pressure on Lewis in the second half, and finally went ahead for good on Pat Fahey's head-in of a powerful Brian Potter throw-in.

Damien ran its advantage to 3-1 later in the final half on Fahey's second goal, this one off an assist by Mike Fox.

Damien ran up an impressive domination of the game statistics. The Spartans, now 18-4-2 on the year, had 25 shots on goal to only five for Webb. Damien also had nine corner kicks on the contest to none for Webb.

The Gauls' Lewis kept the game from being a total rout with 14 saves, some of them bordering on the outstanding.

Webb, which finished second in the Montview League play, wound up the season with an 11-6-2 ledger. Since the bulk of coach John Heyes' squad are underclassmen, the Gauls should be back in the playoff picture next year.

Damien will continue its quest for the 4A soccer crown on Tuesday.

Damien will be traveling Tuesday to continue CIF playoff action. The Spartans will face traditional power South Torrance. South blanked host Excelsior on Friday afternoon.

Claremont kickers rally

By PAUL CLICK
PB Correspondent

Claremont High's soccer team rallied from deficits of 1-0 and 2-1 to defeat Huntington Beach, 3-2, Friday afternoon at Sumner Park in the first round of CIF 4A playoff action.

The Wolfpack, after a subpar first half, rallied with three second half goals for the victory.

Claremont will resume playoff action Tuesday

"We played terrible in the first half," noted Clarernont's Bill Vaskis. "There was no doubt about that as we had no movement, ball pressure or talking between our players. Consequently, we fell behind."

But Claremont was able to bounce back with a few modest changes in its game strategy against Huntington Beach.

Mark Spear drove home the tying goal (2-2) and the winning goal late in the second half. His first goal came shortly after the Oilers reclaimed the lead at, 2-1.

Spear drove the ball into the net after the ball caromed off the goalie, who had just blocked a Jerry Van Zee shot.

Vaskis commented," In the second half, we were able to keep the ball out of the air and finally brought it down to the ground and that was the difference.

"We also began to talk and by putting the ball on the ground we were able to bounce back with the good passing game that we've used all year. And we put more pressure on their players."

Claremont had fallen behind 1-0 in the first half as the Wolfpack could not keep the ball on the ground which allowed Huntington Beach to break up Claremont's drives to the net. When the Wolfpack kept the ball on the turf, they were able to drive through the Oilers for shots at the Huntington Beach goal.

"I thought that Phil Banks played a much better game in the second half, explained Vaskis. "Chuck Seeger did a good job for us in the final half along with Van Zee. It was just a total team effort in the second half."

It was an exciting spectator affair throughout as Claremont took 19 shots at the goal to the Oilers' 10. Goalie Steve Tipping was credited with three saves.

Claremont's next foe in the 4A playoffs will be El Monte, a 1-0 winner over visiting Agoura on Friday afternoon.

Claremont and El Monte will have to flip a coin this weekend to determine the home team in that clash.

Soccer squads win in playoff action

Friday was a banner day for local prep soccer squads in the CIF opening round of the CIF playoffs.

Garey advanced in the 4A competition with a 2-1 win at Santa Ana Valley on penalty kicks, while in the 3A competition Chaffey, Alta Loma and Gladstone all posted wins.

The Vikings fell behind to host Valley 1-0 in the opening half, but Able Quevedo came back to steal an inbounds pass and score in the second half to tie it.

The two squads then battled through two overtime periods in scoreless fashion, and entered the penalty kick phase.

Valley made four of its five boots, but Garey goalie Jesus Lopez blocked a fifth S.A. try. The Vikings then booted home all five of their kicks to win it, Jose Trejo converting on the fifth penalty kick for the victory.

In the 3A competition, an all-valley game was set up as Chaffey beat host Pacifica 2-1 and Alta Loma edged host Bosco Tech 3-2.

Chaffey and Alta Loma will now play one another in next Tuesday's second round action, at a site still to be determined.

Gladstone's Carlos Martin scored twice for his team as the Gladiators had little trouble with Pater Noster, 4-0. Robert Palmerin added a goal and an assist for the Glads.

Is Tracy Austin the next Evert?

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Tracy Austin grinned, revealing a row of glistening braces on her teeth.

Her brownish hair was tied in pigtails, which fell to her shoulders. She nervously picked away at a bowl of vanilla ice cream and took gulps from a king-sized glass of milk.

"I am in a hurry to get home," she said. "I have so much school work to make up. I'm way behind on my algebra and I haven't had a chance to do any reading up on the Civil War. That's social studies.

"My other two subjects are English and Spanish. I don't have to work as hard on them."

Tracy is the newest wonder child of the mushrooming sport of tennis—already at the tender age of 14 being hailed as the "new Chris Evert."

"I don't think they should call me the new Chris Evert," she said, a blush showing behind her faceful of freckles. "I consider it a compliment. Chris is my idol. I like Billie Jean King, too. But I don't think you can compare me with anybody. I'm just me."

Who is "just me?"

Tracy Austin is a phenomenal wisp of a girl, only five feet and an inch tall and weighing 90 pounds. A big gust of wind could blow her right off the court.

Yet she astounded the tennis world recently by knocking off Greer Stevens, an established player, and giving the veteran Rosemary Casals the fight of her life in a pro tournament in Los Angeles.

Tracy also has been beating opponents in the 18-year bracket, her latest triumph coming in a 6-3, 7-6 victory over topseeded Marcie Louie of San Francisco Sunday at Port Washington, N.Y.

"She is amazing," said Julie Heldman, once third-ranked among U.S. women players. "She hits the ball harder than most women much older and much stronger. She is very fast on the court and is not afraid to take the net where she is an excellent volleyer." Like Miss Evert, Tracy is a right-hander who hits a two-fisted backhand.

Tracy is the sprite of a tennis-playing family from Rolling Hills, Calif., a 45-minute freeway drive from Los Angeles. Her father, George, is in space technology and plays regularly with his wife, Jeanne. Tracy's older sister, Pam, 26, is on the tour, and her three brothers, Jeff, Doug and John, she says "all are better than I am."

The Austin family has some 400 tennis trophies strewn all over the place at home.

Tracy stayed over in New York Tuesday to help Gladys Heldman, originator of the Virginia Slims tour, launch another ladies' tennis project called the Lionel Cup.

She was the reluctant star of the show at a local steak house.

"Are you going to play at Wimbledon?" someone asked the girl.

"No, sir, I can't," the eighth-grader replied, "you have to be 16."

Local spikers travel today

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Three local college track and field teams take to the road today.

Jim George's Cal Poly Pomona squad heads for Bakersfield for a four-way meet with Cal State Los Angeles, University of Nevada-Las Vegas and host Cal State Bakersfield at noon.

Pat Mulcahy's Pomona-Pitzer Sagehens will be involved in a tri-meet with a couple of junior college teams — Foothill College and Sacramento City College — in Los Altos, also at noon, and Gayle Hopkins' Claremont-Mudd Stags will visit Biola at 1:30 p.m.

Poly's Broncos were hit last week by the news that the NCAA had ruled Claremont's Marcus Gordien, the discus thrower and shot putter from Mt. San Antonio College, ineligible for the current season.

Gordien enrolled at San Jose State University in the spring of 1976 but stayed there only two weeks before transferring to MSAC, where he competed last spring for the Mounties and for a time held the national JC discus record.

According to an NCAA rule, Gordien must either sit out one full calendar year at Cal Poly or attend the junior college one full calendar year after his brief stint at San Jose State.

George contends that Gordien did sit out a full year between the time he left San Jose State and the present, but since he was at MSAC through June of 1976 and enrolled at Poly last fall, the NCAA does not see it that way.

The Poly coach is appealing the case to the NCAA enforcement committee. If Gordien's status is not changed, he will be red-shirted for the current season and will still have two full years of eligibility, according to George.

"It's a shame this had to happen," said George, "but Marcus took it well. He's dealing with it like a man.

"It's too bad because Cal Poly has never had a track and field athlete of his ability. He's a gentleman and just a good person."

George is quite pleased with his Broncos after one meet, an 87-67 loss at San Diego State.

"It was great to be in the meet," he said. "Our sprints are so good its unreal."

Poly won the 440-yard relay in 41.1 seconds with a foursome of David Duffy, Rick Wilmoth (a transfer from UCLA), Mike Frierson and Ian Smith.

"Wait until we get Harold Carter (a 9.5 sprinter) on our relay team," George said. "We can run in the low 40's or maybe even break 40. It's within the realm of possibility that we'll beat the big boys like UCLA at the MSAC Relays.

"Cal State L.A. will pull away from us in the hurdles," George said. "I think they'll win the conference; in fact, I think they'll win the nationals."

Other top Poly marks last week were freshman David Edds' 1:55.5 in the 880, a 49.5 quarter by freshman Carl Baily of Ganesha High and Carter's 23-10 long jump.

CIF mat finals today

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

The valley's top 15 high school grapplers will go after individual mat titles today as the CIF Southern Section wrestling finals will be held at Fountain Valley High.

Elimination matches are slated to start at 10 a.m., consolation finals will be held at 7 p.m. and championship finals are set to go at 8 p.m.

Heading the list of local prospects for a Southern Section individual crown are Chino's 130-pounder Joe Alaniz and Montclair's 115-pounder Mike Farley.

Both Alaniz and Farley are topseeded in their weight class for today's competition.

Alaniz, who carries a 28-1 season mark into the action at Fountain Valley High, is coming off a first-place finish at the CIF prelims in Fontana. Farley, who sports a 28-3 seasonal log, also took first at Fontana.

While Alaniz and Farley are the only seeded locals for the Southern Section finals, several other valley matmen have a chance of at least qualifying for the CIF State Meet, to be held at Sacramento's American River College on March 4th and 5th.

Walnut's Mark McNicholl will represent the valley in the 98-pound division. McNicholl suffered only his second loss of the year at the Fontana prelims and could surprise today. He's only a freshman.

The local schools won't be represented in the 106-pound bracket, but Farley and Garey's Victor Lizama will be competing for the 115-pound title. Lizama, an experienced grappler, finished fourth at Fontana last week.

The 123-pound class will also be without local entries, but Alaniz and Chaffey's Jeff Barksdale will fight it out with 14 other matmen for 130-pound honors.

No valley entries are in the 136-pound division. In 141's, San Dimas' Bill Callander (a third place finisher at Fontana) will carry the valley's hopes.

The Saints' Bob Pleasant, coming off a second-place performance at Fontana, could well be a dark horse candidate to cop honors at 148 pounds. Pleasant, who came out late from football, holds a 18-1 season lgdger.

Pleasant's only loss this year came at the hands of Cajon's Joe Corella (a 7-2 decision) at Fontana. Corella is top-seeded in the 148-pound class today.

Ontario's Bill Haselrig, a runnerup at Fontana, will compete for top honors at 157 pounds, while by sheer numbers the valley should shine in the 168-pound division.

There, no less than three local wrestlers will battle it out. They are Ontario's Larry Cutbirth (second at Fontana last week), Chaffey's Dave Kaufman (third at Fontana) and Upland's Kelly Riefel (fourth at Fontana).

Chino's Mike Anderson cleared up a medical problem at Fontana last week and is ready to go at 178 pounds. Anderson was runnerup 178-pounder at Fontana.

Upland's Rich Dalquest will be one of the 16 wrestlers in the 194-pound bracket, while Montclair's Don Markley and San Dimas' Bob Tatalovich will represent the valley in the heavyweight division.

Markley finished second at Fontana and could surprise for the heavyweight title today.

Garvey to go for home runs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Steve Garvey already is one of the finest hitters in baseball.

But rookie manager Tommy Lasorda wants to tamper with success.

Hoping to get more power out of his line-up, Lasorda has told Garvey: "Hit more home runs."

For Garvey, it will mean a change in emphasis from from consistency to power, even though he doesn't totally agree with Lasorda's emphasis on the long ball.

"The home run isn't what it was in Babe Ruth's day," Garvey says. "On a ball club the most valuable player is one who plays consistently well."

And Garvey has been consistent. A .317 hitter in 1976, He's the only Dodger since 1890 to chalk up 200 hits annually for three consecutive seasons and is the Dodgers' only active lifetime .300 hitter.

Nonetheless, the 28-year-old Garvey isn't about to buck Lasorda.

"Of course," he replied when asked if he would change his style willingly. "My philosophy is that on a ball club, the manager sets the team goals. That's his job, not ours. In other words, the ends jusifies the means."

Garvey is not shy about his chances of meeting the new demands.

"Fortunately for me, I have the ability to hit the ball out (of the park) any place — right field and even center field, as well as left. So it won't be a big adjustment for me — not as big as a pull hitter would have to make."

Garvey points out that he hit 21 homers in 1974, and conjectures that he could get it up to 25 or 30 this season, "if I was willing to take a 30-point drop in my average."

But he added, a bit sardonically that Lasorda had only mentioned more home runs — not a lower batting average.

"He's a man who demands a lot," Garvey said. "Do you know what he told me? He said what he wants out of is more home runs combined with the same average — unless I can deliver better."

"He was laughing, but I don't think he was kidding."

HALLANDALE, Fla. (AP) — A number of Kentucky Derby nominees are expected to go to the post in the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park here Monday, March 7, the closing day of the meeting

The zebra is the famous member of the horse family that wears stripes. These black or dark-brown stripes on a whitish background run all over the zebra's body, even down to the hoofs. They help hide the zebra from its enemies.

While the zebra's stripes make it stand out clearly when seen at close range in the zoo, everyone who has seen a zebra in its wild home on the grassy African plains will agree that the animal is not so easily recognized at a distance.

When seen from far away, the stripe pattern breaks up the outline of the zebra's body, making it difficulto to recognize as an animal. This helps the zebra to be over looked by lions — th zebra's natural enemy – and other animals whic hunt zebras for food.

In the wild, zebras roam i herds and eat grass, just a horses do. But zebras ar difficult to tame and trai because they are less gent than horses.

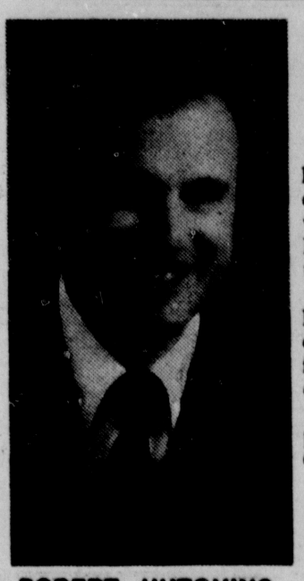
The musical, composed by Paul Johnson as part of Campus Crusade for Christ's "World Thrust," will be accompanied by guitar, brass, and percussion. Special multimedia effects and choreography, arranged by Bill Brogie and Jeff Kennedy, will highlight the presentation. Soloists are Tom Chapman, Cindy Michael, Rick Essells, Jeff Kennedy, Julia Wood, Debbie Henderson, Joiseanne Kibler, and Jan Montgomery.

The Young Faith choir completed a four-day tour last weekend where "Sons of the Kingdom" was presented to audiences in the San Diego area, including the Naval Training Center, the Plaza Camino Real and Holiday Park in Carlsbad. The choir also participated in the annual Round-the-Table Carol Sings last December, attended by 10,000 persons.

Sunday musical presentation will be directed by E. Martene Craig, minister of music. She is frequently a guest conductor and lecturer at regional and national church music conferences.



ROBERT HUTCHINS, health care administrator for the Pomona Psychiatric Hospital, will be speaker at the Pomona Christian Businessmen's Committee program Tuesday at 7 a.m. at Sambo's Restaurant in Claremont. For program information, phone Roger Peters, 593-1438.

Leader training in final night

The music will be provided by the Children's Choir from Pomona First Baptist Church, beginning at 6:40 p.m. The speaker is Dr. Bruce Narramore of the Rosemead Graduate School of Psychology.

At 8 p.m. there will be workshops designed to assist the Christian worker. A digest of all the notes of the 100 workshops and messages will be available for $3 at the opening of the session.

Communion will be celebrated at the morning worship service. Sunday at 7:30 p.m., the Claremont Presbyterian Church Youth Group will present the play, "The Table".

Real needs of life said more important

By VONNE ROBERTSON
PB Staff Writer

E.F. Schumacher, English economist and philosopher who is said to be influential in Gov. Edmund Brown Jr.'s thinking on ecology, said Thursday in Claremont that the public must concentrate on what are the real needs of life.

The author of "Small is Beautiful," Schumacher spoke at an afternoon press conference and an evening lecture at the School of Theology at Claremont as part of a conference on "Economics and Theology."

"Let's come home to our real needs," said Schumacher. "The Lord sends a lot of water. People need to learn how to save it.

"We must learn to work with nature and not against it. If this means seeking alternate methods of agriculture and life styles, then we must seek them."

He decried the "fantastic schemes" of "People of the Forward Stampede."

Schumacher said he was amazed at the number of people in the world who seemed to operate under the philosophy of "a solution a day keeps the crisis away."

In discussing the current shortage of water in California and Brown's conflicting statements about cutting back and also building more reservoirs, Schumacher said if there is not enough water, people will simply have to make do.

The author said his native England had been faced with similar water shortages and attempted to solve their problems by appointing a minister of water. All that happened, he said, is that the appointee finally became a member of the House of Lords.

Schumacher said economists must stop measuring a nation by its gross national product and start measuring it by the quality of human life.

He said that while life in England may be crowded, it is still generally quite comfortable.

"That's because, in England, people matter. We've found that human abuses can be abolished and the economy doesn't collapse," said the former Rhodes Scholar who served as chief economist for Britain's National Coal Board from 1950 to 1970.

Russia, on the other hand, has such rigidity in its intellectual life that many of the things which concern its people cannot be spoken about, Schumacher added.

While playing an important role in decentralizing the operations of the coal industry in Britain, Schumacher began a parallel career as adviser on rural development to the prime ministers of Burma and India. In both nations, he advocated strengthening agriculture and decentralizing industrial development based on human and natural resources.

E.F. SCHUMACHER

Schumacher remains a qualified expert on the Far East.

"A miracle has happened in China," he said. "After immense suffering, there emerged a group of men who'd gone through fire. They pieced together a new society in which everyone is adequately fed, clothed and housed."

While China has a lo material level still, it mu be remembered how f they have progressed, a ded the economist.

Schumacher said th people who believe th plutonium can be safe stored and disposed of, some advocates say, w believe anything.

"To make plutonium so ghastly that even t good Lord didn't make i Schumacher said. " knew when to stop."

In discussing storage nuclear wastes, he said method was safe so long people can't cont earthquakes and other asters.

The British economist response to more than invitations, is now o grueling 43-day speak trip across the Uni States under the sp sorship of his U.S. sociates, Intermedi Technology, in Me Park.

He is appearing in York, Colorado, Califo Illinois, Arizona Washington, D.C, w his hosts include governors and national state legislators as we leaders in the busi science and educa fields.

Red Cross chapter house

Mortgage burning in Claremont

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

Burning the mortgage of the Claremont chapter house at 2065 N. Indian Hill Blvd. will be a highlight Sunday of an open house celebration to culminate 60 years of Red Cross service in Claremont.

The program will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. with Mayor Bertye Smith giving a welcoming speech as part of a formal event set to begin at 3 p.m. when all past chapter chairmen and chairmen of volunteers will be honored.

The open house will serve as a prelude to the March Red Cross membership enrollment campaign, chaired by D. J. Hiltabidel.

A person honored will be Mrs. Hester Powell, who has served 58 years as a Red Cross volunteer.

Mrs. Powell received her first contact with Red Cross back in Mitchell, Neb., where her grandmother taught her how to knit and her father offered to donate yarn for all who knitted for the men overseas during World War I.

"Grandmother began a knitting class," Mrs. Powell recalled, and "my father donated case after case of yarn for socks and sweaters."

Mrs. Powell, currently a board member for the chapter, will serve as hospitality chairman at the open house.

Mrs. Pat Henny, who celebrated becoming an American citizen Lincoln's Birthday, will be open house chairman.

Mrs. Powell recalled her coming to Pomona College as a pre-med student in 1919. Her father, George D. Palmer, who had served as president of the Pomona school board 15 years, and college President James Blaisdell had been classmates at Beloit College, Wis.

Professor D. H. Colcord, who was the first chairman of the Claremont Red Cross when it received its formal charter from the National Red Cross June 6, 1917, called a meeting of college students in 1919 to start a college group.

The college group quickly became involved in Red Cross work and during the fighting of a brush fire in the hillsides north of the Claremont village supplied the firefighters with sandwiches and coffee made at the old Claremont Inn.

The program, started during World War I at Pomona College, has extended to all the Claremont Colleges, and the local chapter each year receives great support from college students.

Mrs. Powell recalled that the first chapter house was in a building called "The Barn" on First Street between Yale and Harvard avenues.

In the intervening years the chapter has had other homes before it moved to its present location.

The chapter paid $7.50 a month for the use of a building at Harvard Avenue and First Street in 1941. Included in the agreement was the stipulation that the chapter pay $25 for painting the front of the building.

Memorial Park was the home for five years for the local chapter, which signed a 15-year paid-in-advance lease to the city, but after five years, the city wanted the building, and in 1964, the chapter moved to its Indian Hill Boulevard home.

The chapter started its loan closet in 1935, a program by which Claremont residents could borrow wheel chairs, crutches and even bed pans for a limited period.

It started the first community swim program in Claremont in 1935 and carried on for several years until the city assumed the responsibility.

The chapter's blood program was started in 1942, and still receives strong support from residents.

Claremont's knitting program, begun in World War I, is going as efficiently as ever. Last year, 20 volunteers at Claremont Manor and the San Antonio Gardens knitted 1,200 garments, including slipper socks, crutch pads, cast socks, afghans and sleeveless sweaters for hospital patients.

The local chapter has had only three paid staff members in its history: Jane Holdom, first executive secretary; Ardelle Morse, first executive director from 1953 to 1963; and Kay Griffith, also executive director from 1963 to the present day.

Terrorist suspects indicted

MADRID, Spain (AP) — A court indicted Spain's best-known ultrarightist and three Italian neofascists Friday on terrorism charges in a government crackdown on right-wing violence.

The judicial action was tempered by the release of 18 youths suspected of an attack two days ago at Madrid University in retaliation for the arrest of the ultrarightist, Mariano Sanchez Covisa. Police said nobody could identify the 18 as members of the gang that injured professors and students with chains and iron bars.

The indictment of Sanchez Covisa, alleged head of a group of right-wing toughs calling themselves "Guerrillas of Christ the King," was considered a landmark for Spain's reform-minded govermment. It was the first known prosecution of a follower of Gen. Francisco Franco since Franco's insurgent forces won the Spanish civil war in 1939.

Spain's leftist opposition has charged since Franco's death 15 months ago that left-wing violence has been prosecuted quickly but rightist attacks have been ignored.

A Madrid court ordered Sanchez Covisa, a 58-year-old chemist who says he favors "patriotic violence," tried for terrorism after hearing evidence he had rented an apartment in the Spanish capital where a small arms factory was found.

Hawaii tour slated

The San Dimas Parks and Recreation Department will conduct a 10-day, three-island tour of Hawaii in September.

The tour will leave Sept. 16 and return Sept. 25. The cost for the trip is $529 plus tax and portage.

The excursion is for adults only. A $50 per person deposit is required at the time reservations are made. These are being accepted at San Dimas City Hall, 256 East Bonita Ave.

For more information, persons may call 599-6713, ext. 40.

On campus

"Feeling Wistful in Brasenose Chapel" is the title of a talk to be given by POMONA COLLEGE President David Alexander on Tuesday at noon in Olney Dining Hall, Pomona College.

The lecture, a part of the Tuesday Luncheon Lecture Series, is free and open to the public. There will be a charge for luncheon for off-campus participants.

CHAFFEY COLLEGE will offer a bus driver education program for beginners at Upland High School from March 7 to April 6.

The class will meet from 7 to 10 p.m., Mondays and Wednesdays, with field testing to be arranged with instructor Raymond C. Bailey, Chaffey transportation foreman.

Covered by the program will be all the requirements of the education code, licensing, pupil transportation, bus inspections and driving skills.

The course amounts to 30 hours of class time and 10 hours of laboratory or field testing.

Olympic games

The modern Olympic Games, named after the athletic contests held in ancient Greece, began in 1896. The contests are held every four years.

Enrollment will be at the first class session. There will be no charge for registration.

Concerned about the apparent barriers that exist between current poetic form and the general public, SCRIPPS COLLEGE is sponsoring "French Poetry Today — A Colloquium" on Friday, in its Humanities Auditorium. The day-long colloquium is scheduled from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The colloquium will open with an address by critic Mary Ann Caws, entitled "Poetry Then and Now." Discussions of contemporary poets by Professors Renee Reise-Hubert and Ann Smock will follow. The audience will then have an opportunity to question guest speakers during a round-table discussion moderated by Scripps faculty Dalton Krauss and Monique Chefdor.

The public is invited to attend the free Colloquium. For further information, persons may contact Dalton Krauss, Scripps College, 626-8511, ext. 3542.

An evening class that could help budding authors bloom will be offered by CHAFFEY COLLEGE in the spring quarter.

Reading and Writing Non-Fiction is scheduled for 6:30 to 10:20 on Wednesdays, starting April 6.

Teaching the four-unit course will be Myron Roberts, author of half a dozen books and hundreds of magazine articles.

Spring-quarter registration will be on March 25, 28 and 29.

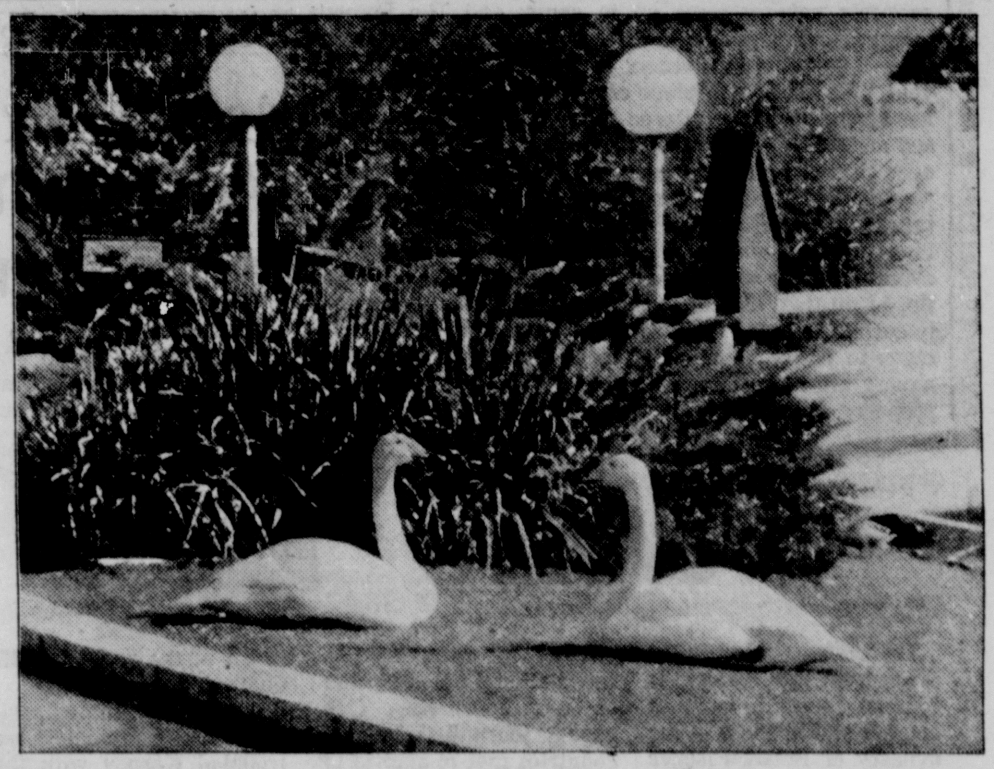
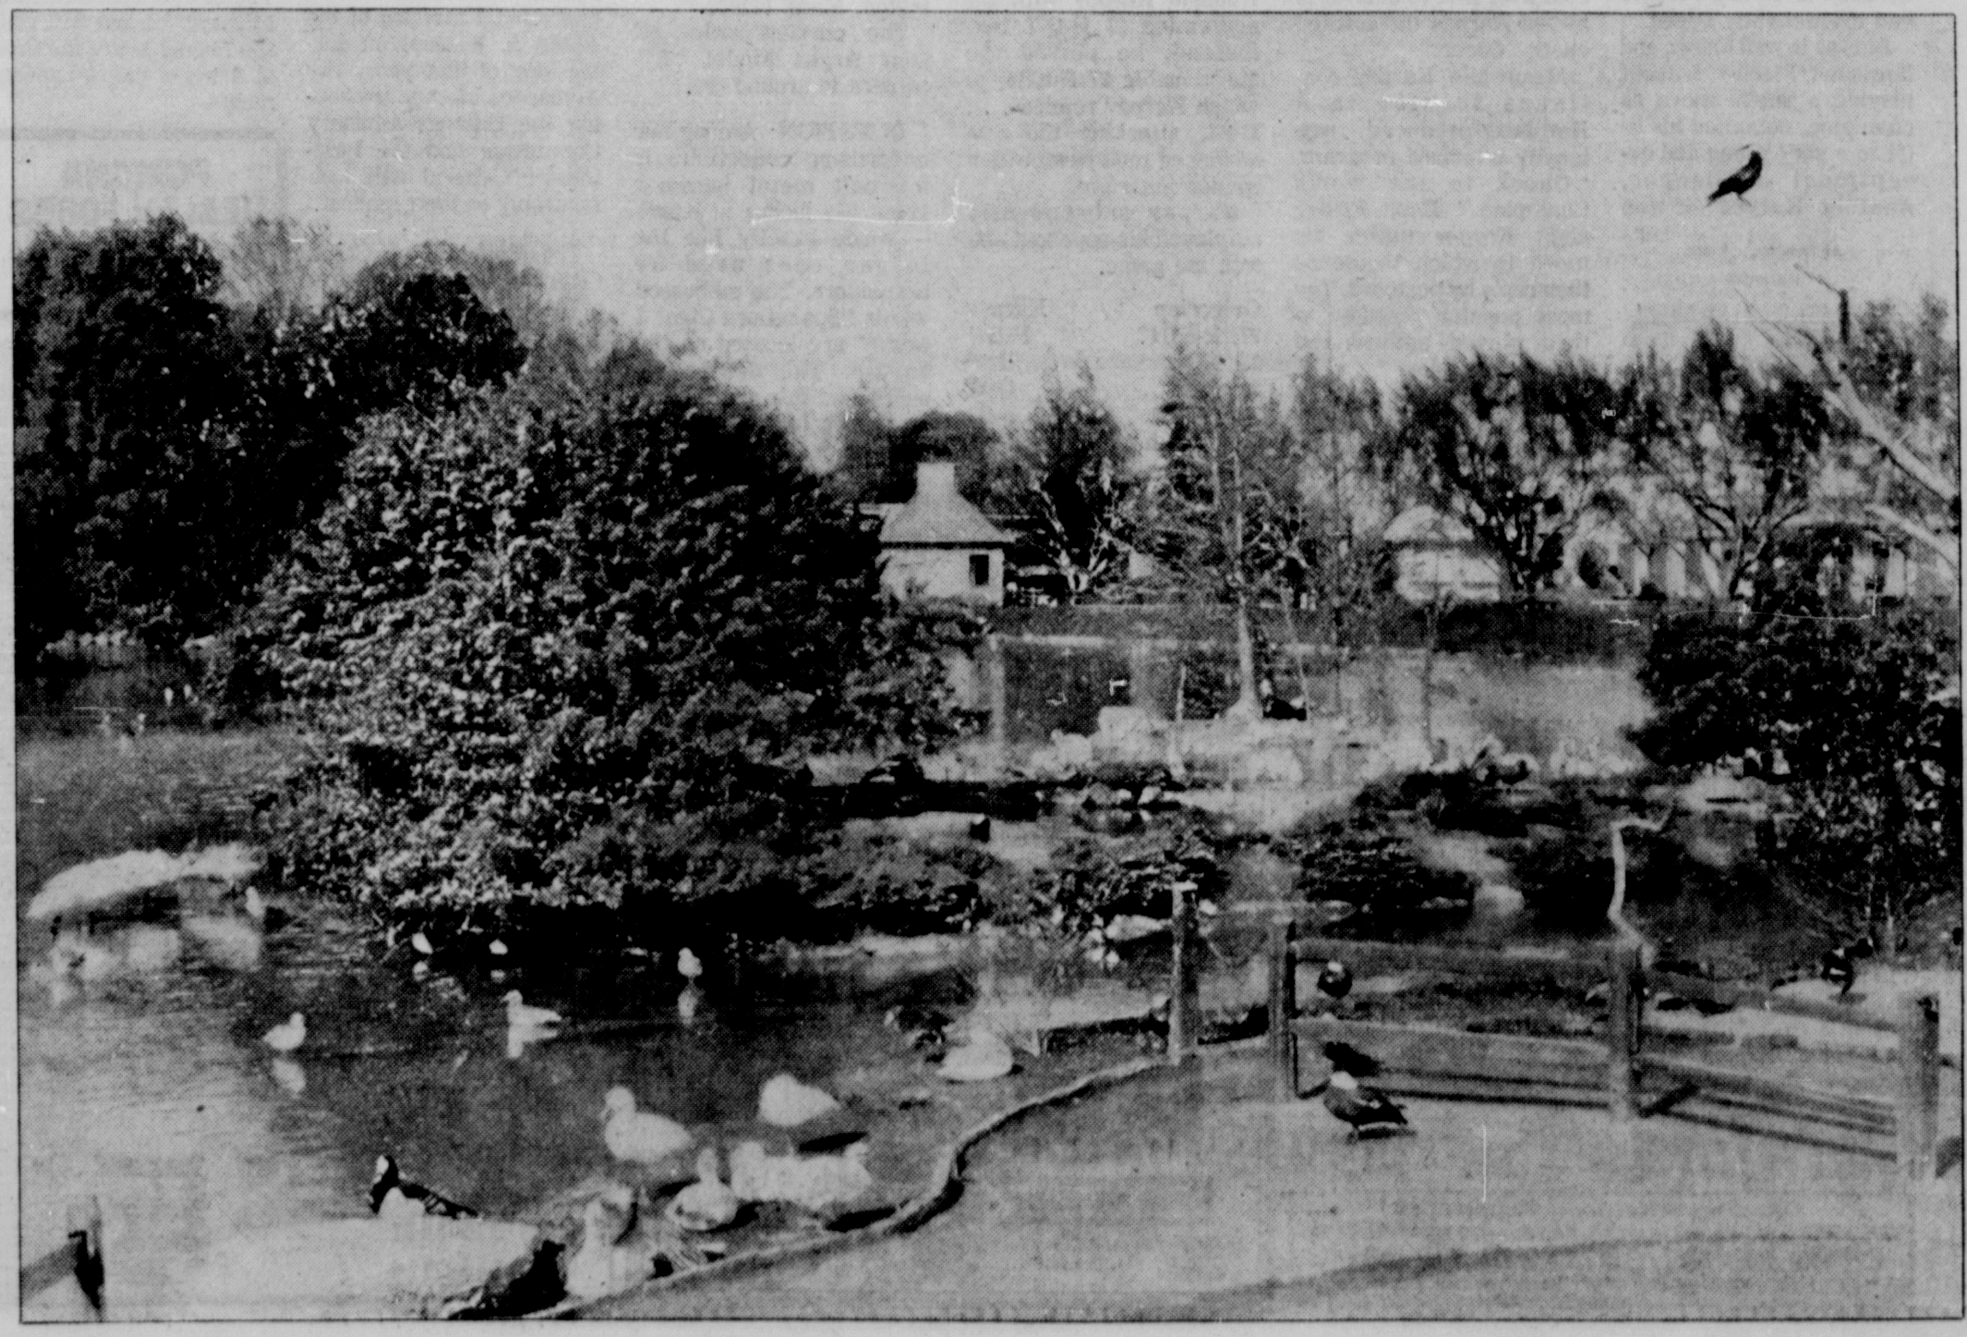
Pomona, California ■ Saturday, February 26, 1977

Busch Gardens returns to its former role

...Story on pages 4-5





Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

In 1885 The Pomona Progress reported: "The largest house rent paid by anyone in Pomona is $40 a month." In that same newspaper there was an advertisement which read: "2,460 acres of well watered grazing land. Eight miles from Pomona. Price $6 per acre." — But thanks to the efforts of assessors and tax collectors, six short years later those halcyon days finally came to an end. By 1891 property owners in Pomona began to realize that the tax collector had found them out. And as a result, in that year The Pomona Progress reported: "The largest individual tax payer in Pomona now pays a tax of $220 on his land and lots and $72 on his mortgages. The second largest pays $190 on his buildings and lots."

Naturally, faced with such outrageous taxes, our 1891 property owners were up in arms, and The Pomona Progress editor voiced their disapproval in no uncertain terms. — "The assessment of property is shameful this year," he wrote. "A piece of property east of town that has repeatedly been offered for sale at $400 is now assessed at $450." — All that, of course was 86 years ago but ever since, Pomona newspaper editors have continued to wonder just how "shameful" property assessments and taxes can actually get. Poor editors! They've been gluttons for punishment. One would think, however, that eventually they would tire of fighting such a hopeless battle, admit that, like death, nothing can be more shamefully certain than tax increases, and leave it up to the politicians to worry about what they're going to do to raise money after the government has foreclosed on all the property.

ARGUS MODEL K

Antique-wise

Argus model is a camera 'find'

By Dorothy Hammond

QUESTION: Would you be good enough to tell me how much this old Argus Model "K" camera is worth? It is in fine working condition.

I would also like to know if there is a book available to camera buffs, which gives prices of cameras and related equipment? K.C.P.

ANSWER: An excellent price reference covering photograph memorabilia is "The Blue Book Price Guide To Collectible Cameras" by Myron Wolf, $2.95 (P.O. Box 351, Lexington, Mass. 02173).

The current value of your Argus Model "K" camera is around $90.

QUESTION: Among our advertising collectibles is a small metal hammer about 5½ inches in length — made exactly like the larger ones used by carpenters. The embossed words "Spanaflora Cigar 5 cents" are located on the handle. The dealer we purchased this small hammer from told us that the small hammer was originally used for opening cigar boxes. Was our information correct? T.A.W.

ANSWER: Yes.

QUESTION: Can you estimate the value of four signed 8½" pink Tiffany luncheon plates? These are all perfect, each having a pinkins center with a frosted pink stretch border. Mrs. A.M.

ANSWER: The current selling price ranges from about $150 to $175.

There was a time, in recent memory, when it seemed a new milennium had arrived in chess — the dynasty of Bobby Fischer had dramatically begun.

But, as is well known and lamented, Fischer, without playing a single move as champion, defaulted his title to a very young and exceptional challenger, Anatoly Karpov of the Soviet Union. Before and since that 1975 default, Karpov has with impressive fearlessness and verve run roughshod over his opposition. In fact, in over 100 games as Champion, Karpov has been beaten only three times.

It is, therefore, not surprising that for the fourth year in a row, Karpov has been voted the top chessplayer of the year at the annual meeting of the International Association of Chess Journalists. This year 82 journalists from 28 countries met in Madrid to award Karpov the coveted chess "Oscar."

Meanwhile Karpov continues to star in a Hamburg-produced, nationally televised program, "Check to the World Champion." Each Friday night Karpov makes his move to which thousands then reply by postcard. The most popular response is then played against the World Champion.

According to expert opinion, the position was balanced after 11 moves.

BEGINNER'S CORNER-hint and explanation: Sacrifice the queen!

A TOUGH VICTORY

The game below is illustrative of Karpov's hard-earned first place finish in the recent USSR Championship.

In the diagrammed position, Grigorian could have troubled Karpov with the aggressive 27 R-Q7! But, instead, he played the questionable 27 P-KR4, to which Karpov replied . . . P-B4, attacking the now advanced rook pawn with a sudden initiative.

Grigorian	Karpov
27. P-KR4?	P-B4!
28. K-N2	RxP
29. RxR	QxR
30. R-KR1	Q-B3
31. Q-Q6ch	K-N2
32. Q-R2	R-Q1
33. R-KN1	K-B1
34. Q-B7	R-A5

36. Q-N3	P-B5
37. Q-R2	Q-B3
38. R-QB1	R-Q7
39. K-N1	RxRP
40. Q-R5	white resigned

Solution to BEGINNER'S CORNER: White plays 1 QxPch!! If 1 . . . RxQ, then 2 Q-B8ch R-N1; 3 P-N7 mate. On the other hand, 1 . . . KxQ is met by 2 R-B7ch and 3 RxP mate.

Stamps in the news

Howard Hughes was a controversial man during his lifetime and even after death. But his accomplishments in the field of aviation are well established. One particular record by Hughes is being commemorated in the newest "Milestone of Flight" cover sponsored the National Air and Space Museum of the Smithsonian Institution. It was the record-setting 1937 transcontinental flight in the Hughes H-1 racer.

Hughes left Los Angeles before dawn on Jan. 19, 1937, and arrived at Newark, N.J., Airport 7 hours, 28 minutes and 25 seconds later. He averaged 332 miles per hour over the 2,490-mile route.

The price of the cacheted cover is $1.25 and it can be ordered from Milestones of Flight, National Air and Space Museum, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C. 20560.

Making an early bid for a new stamp is the Aerospace Medical Association which has submitted its request to the U.S. Postal Service for a stamp to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Association in 1979. The proposal suggests issuance of the stamp at the annual scientific and educational meeting of the ASMA in Washington during May of that year. The Aerospace Medics are hoping the Citizens Advisory Committee and the Postmaster General will look favorably on their request.

The Republic of China (Taiwan) has issued a trio of stamps featuring ancient Chinese paintings — pine, bamboo, plum, the three friends of winter.

According to the World Wide Philatelic Agency, the three paintings were by artists of the Yuan (1277-1368) and Ming (1368-1644) dynasties, and were selected from the National Palace Museum.

The pine, bamboo and the plum are considered by the Chinese people to be the "three friends of winter" because they survive severe cold yet are lofty and noble. The subjects of the new stamps are also symbols of traditional Chinese art and culture.

The stamps are available at your local stamp dealer or store.

The British Virgin Islands extends hands across the waters with its friendly neighbors, the American Virgin Islands, by issuing four new stamps commemorating Friendship Day. In 1951, an inter-Virgin Islands Conference was held to establish closer ties and since that time many such meetings have been held to cement their cordial relations.

The 8-cent depicts Government House in Tortola, British Virgin Islands. The 15-cent shows Government House in St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands. The 30-cent features Flags of the USVI and BVI while the 75-cent bears the Coats of Arms of the two governments.

Busch Gardens returns to its former role

Busch Gardens, Van Nuys amusement park, closed briefly this winter but reopened last month as the Busch Bird Sanctuary, a park-like haven for more than 1,500 fowl ranging from the American eagle to the black-necked screamer. Very little has changed at the colorful park except that some of the musical and drama attractions have been dropped, and the admittance fee has gone from $3.50 to zero.

What this means to visitors is that the 23-acre park has returned to its former role of Busch Gardens, opened in 1966 adjacent to the Anheuser-Busch brewery, which is still foaming away. The monorail tour of the plant is still offered free, and the hospitality centers offer samples of Budweiser, Busch and Michelob beer. As the original park expanded and became an amusement center themed to birds, it added small theaters and musical and dramatic entertainment.

However, as an amusement park in competition with Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, Magic Mountain and other Southern California entertainment centers, Busch Gardens did not thrive. August A. Busch III, president and chief executive of the company said, "The Los Angeles Gardens has never been profitable. Efforts to improve the situation have been unsuccessful, largely because of the lack of expansion capabilities for our theme park in the intensely competitive Los Angeles market."

Today the Busch Bird Sanctuary is unique for its vast collection of birds — some 180 different species, including hawks, crows, macaws, ducks, flamingos, storks, swans, cockatoos, great horned owls and golden eagles. Most of them move freely around the grounds or can be viewed from the boat cruise in areas resembling their native habitat. The food budget for the birds is $24,000 a year. Injured birds of endangered species are cared for in the Winding waterways and peaceful lagoons make an attractive home for the birds.

ON THE COVER

Busch Gardens in Van Nuys has changed from an amusement park to Busch Bird Sanctuary, feeding and sheltering more than 1,500 fowl. The park has dropped some of its entertainment features, but little else has changed. Admission to the 23-acre bird sanctuary is free.

park under an agreement with state and federal agencies. Many of the fowl are contained in the towering walk-through flight cages where visitors have the opportunity to observe rare birds at close range. The aviary is a photographer's paradise.

The Busch Bird Sanctuary also has gift shops, a chicken restaurant, an ice cream parlor, snack bars and the Gaslight Theater where a trained bird show, featuring cockatoos and macaws, is presented hourly. Visitors can also view Anheuser-Busch's award-winning multi-media presentation, "The Eagle Within," at the Strand Theater. The $17 million bird sanctuary also offers exhibits of otters, penguins, primates, land tortoises and other creatures.

Thus, although a few things have changed as the amusement park turned into a bird sanctuary, most of the things are the same — the bird collections, performances, monorail tour and the boat ride through the lagoons and waterways studded with trees and exotic plants.

Will the new image be effective?

"We are projecting 1.2 million visitors in 1977," a park spokesman said.

The Busch Bird Sanctuary is at 16000 Roscoe Blvd., an hour's drive from Pomona. Parking is $1, and the 20-minute guided boat tour of the gardens is $1 for adults, 50 cents for children. The park is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday.

A company that cares

By TOM PAYNE

If you want to share in the excitement and enthusiasm, be sure to go to 4480 Holt Blvd., Montclair, this weekend.

We are excited because of the outstanding floor plans and quality of Silvercrest Homes, and enthused because Silvercrest, like Tom Payne's, is "a company that cares."

We care about your happiness in one of our mobile homes. We care about the fitting of your individual needs. And we care about your full and complete satisfaction.

Tom Payne's Mobile Homes is owned and operated by Tom and Irma Payne. They are assisted by a staff that includes Lee Sears, the service manager, and Don McCabe, Margaret Ingham, Lyman (Mac) Mcluen and Bob Pitts.

Over the years, we have worked with several manufacturers. But never have we had the opportunity of working with any manufacturer that tries so hard to get the most for the buyer's dollar as does Silvercrest.

Tom Payne's is one of the few exclusive dealers in the entire state. We are exclusive Silvercrest dealers — as a result of seeking out the best home on today's market plus realizing the better we know our product, the better job we can do for our customer. We even have our own exclusive decorating room. This also enables us to supply good quality homes in different price ranges.

Shopping for a mobile home is somewhat similar to shopping for clothing, furniture, etc., in that one will find different price categories because one will find different quality categories.

To sum it all up, buying your home from Tom and Irma Payne means that you, as their many other owners, can have the best available today. Buying a Silvercrest home means unquestioned quality and much more.

Silvercrest means quality throughout, brand-name appliances, choice of color-coordinated interiors, choice of interior design and a home that is impressive, comfortable and easily maintained.

Silvercrest means huge master bedrooms, two luxurious bathrooms, family rooms, spacious living rooms and efficient and convenient kitchens.

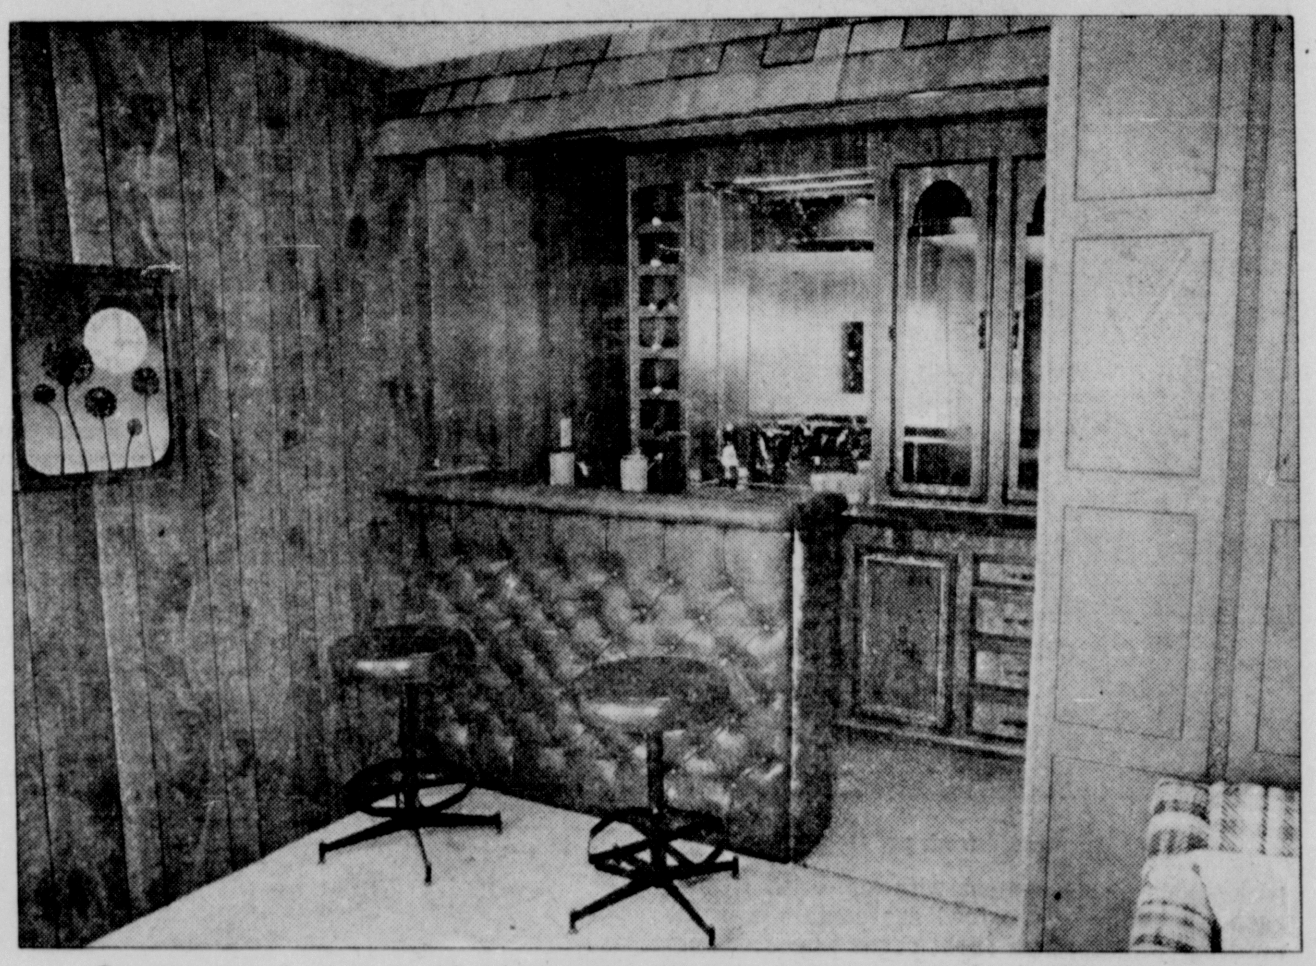
This modern kitchen is made inviting by the sunlight from a corner window.



Two stools and a bar provide ideal setting for relaxation in one corner of family room.

Mission Kick-off held

By SUSAN BERGMANN
Pomona Catholic

Friday the ASB of P.C. initiated the Mission Kick-off. Each year, P.C. has a drive during Lent to raise money for overseas missions.

Lent started Wednesday with a special Mass for the school and will continue through Easter. The ASB (headed by Sister Thomasette) arranged many activities to preview future projects.

Contests were performed, each to symbolize a future event. A few coming attractions are the bike-a-thon, walk-a-thon, Mission banquet, plus activities sponsored by individual classes in their efforts to be the class to raise the most money.

At this time, each class submitted its estimation of the total amount which will be raised in the drive. Each estimation was put in a sealed envelope which will be opened at the end of the drive.

The "Minty Mile" was the most important of the Mission kick-off activities. Runners were chosen from each class. The runners placed all the money collected by their class up to that date on a strip of tape, one coin at a time. Spirit points were awarded to the class which finished first and the class with the most money.

The cheerleaders also performed to encourage spirit in each class.

The first public actress to perform in public was Margaret Hughes, playing Desdemona in Othello at a theater in Clare Market, London, on Dec. 8, 1660.
